Mrs Hodge,
1st and 4th bell were very enjoyable and they would not have been if we had an on enjoyable teacher. I am glad I spent 2 bells in your class. I've enjoyed all aspects have been better if you would have lowered the timing scales. I'll miss Great Bridge next year. But I'll always have memory's.

Mrs. Hodge,
I have really

Great Bridge II

The Switch is On

Quite obviously this past year was like no other year for those attending Great Bridge High School. The new building was the big change that occurred. No longer did students, faculty, or administrators have to face the hazards of overheating in an under-airconditioned school. Now the major concern for most was the possibility of freezing!

The switch to Great Bridge II began at the end of last year. All available hands began packing things in uniform size boxes so they could be loaded more easily. This endeavor continued throughout the summer with the help of many people who packed, painted, loaded, transported, cleaned, unloaded and organized the various items. However after all this, it still was not over. Loads of paperwork and arranging of classrooms and offices still had to be dealt with.

Finally, these tasks completed, all Wildcats turned to enjoying what was left of the summer. A short time later, the time came to begin the usual preparations for the upcoming school year.

Laura Hofer showed her support for the Wildcats by selling Homecoming corsages.

The traditional banner for the football game against Indian River is created by Kate Hensley and Staci Dekker.

David Williams shows surprise as he is caught in the act.

Exchanging views, Bobby Harrell and Scott Gibbs make their way to class.

While discussing the seal put in by the senior class, Kevin Abraham and Robin Beatty suddenly realize they are in their final year.

Showing what a real man is, Ernie Hyman puts on his true attitude.

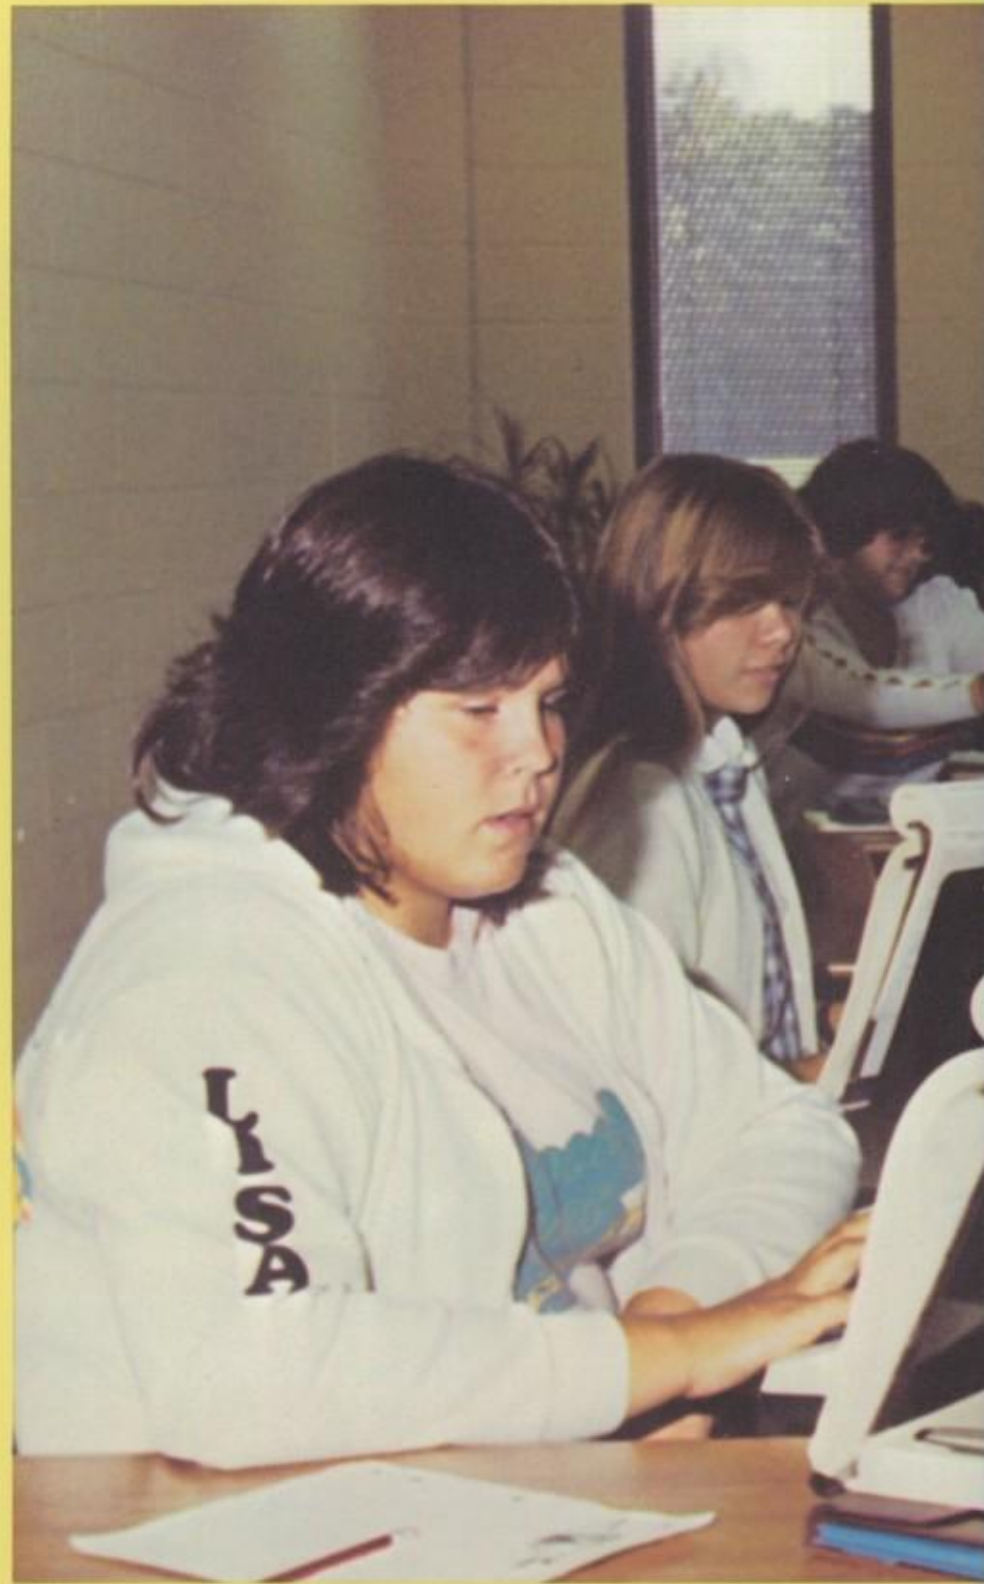

The Switch is On.

The teachers and administration came in one week earlier to plan curriculum for the upcoming year and to decorate their rooms. Sprucing up the blank walls became more difficult than it had been in the past because of the strict regulations given to the teachers. No tape was allowed on walls or doors. These rules came into effect to preserve the newness of the paint job. Now posters and things could not be hung. Mr. Pierre Anderson got around this by using the "cloths line effect". He strung fishing line around the room and used paper clips to attach pictures to the lines. Instructors also obtained permission to hang plants from their ceilings to add some life to the drab corners. Strict watch was kept on students and faculty who sat on desks and tables.

The building possesses many assets which far outweigh the stricter policies. The airconditioning, paved parking lots, new tennis courts, practice fields for each soccer team, new gym and facilities, new headsets for the foreign language rooms, offices for each department head, and countless others helped in overcoming the restrictions.

Even though it took some getting used to, most Wildcats approved of their new domain.

Jackie Smith hurries to open her lock before her pass time runs out.

Mr. Blevins finds time out of his busy schedule to have a friendly chat with two students.

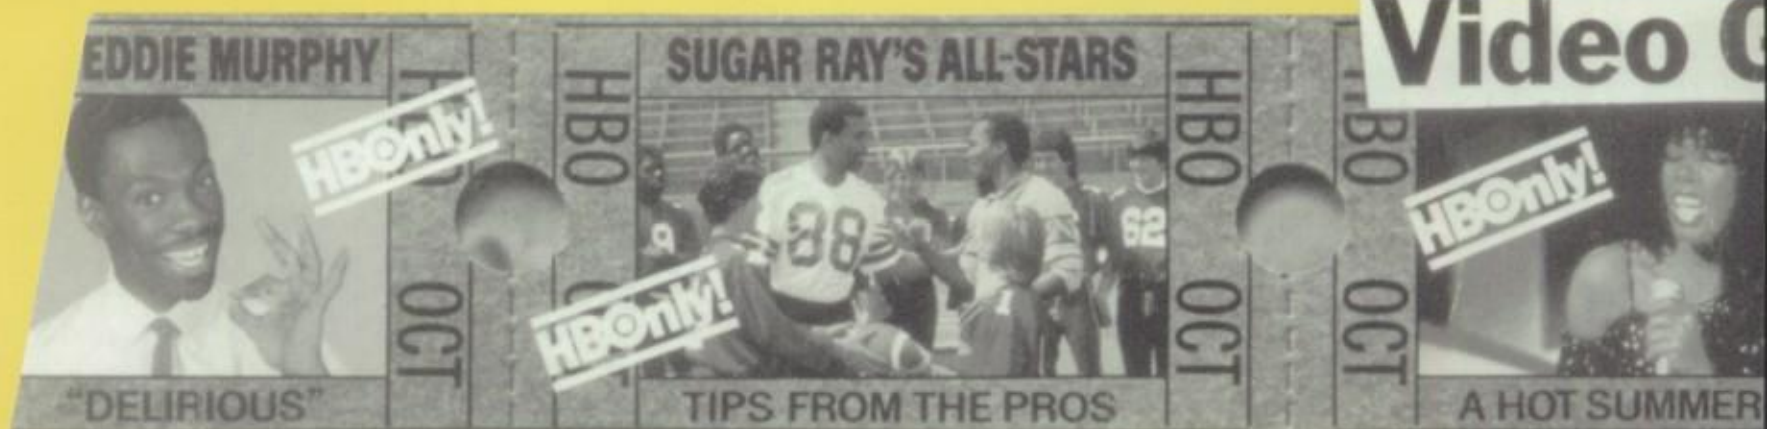

Concentrating on their textbooks, typing students "key" their way through typing class.

The library offers a quiet place to catch up on homework before or after school.

Speaking basic is not so hard, as Richard Hargrove finds out.

Smiling all the time, Dante Ashby and his friends find out that the kitchen is not such a bad place to work.

CURRENT EVENTS

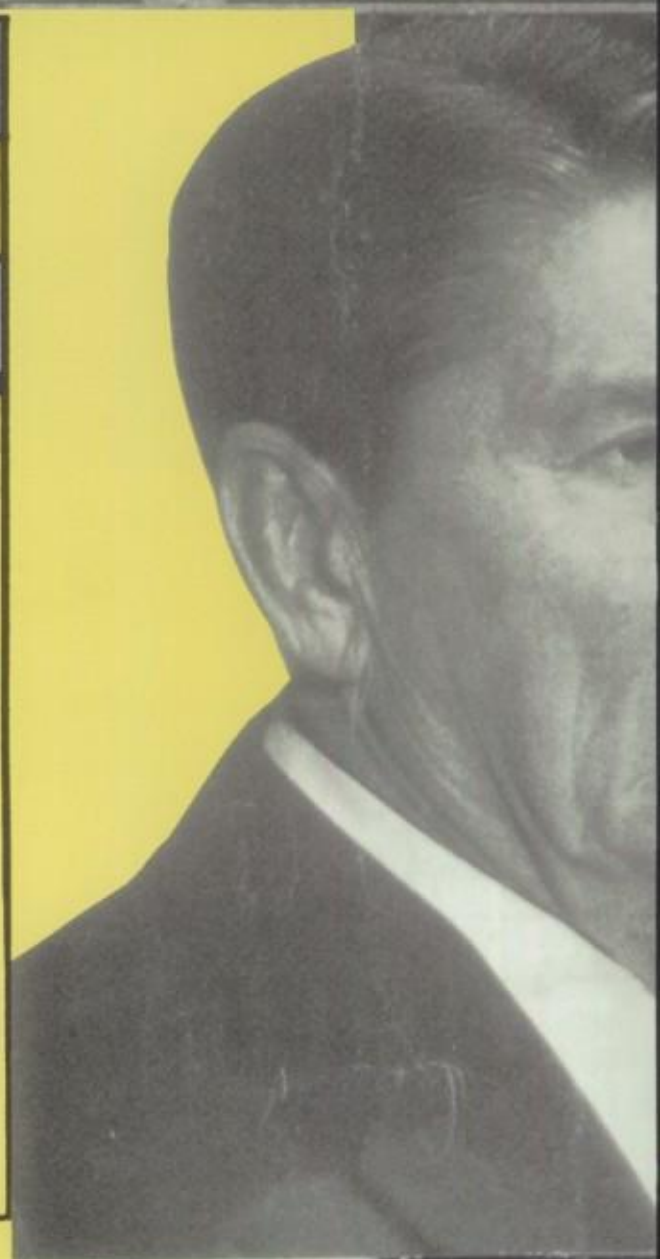

All in all this past year was very exciting on the local and world scenes. Everyday there were new developments in all aspects of our culture. Politics, entertainment, sports and education.

In entertainment, cable hit Great Bridge. Music television, one of the numerous channels, seemed to be the most popular with our students. Nationally the people were shocked into a rude awakening about nuclear war with ABC's, "The Day After".

Americans were also hit hard with the news of the deaths of many U.S. marines in Lebanon. This bitter event will be long remembered.

Though there were a few bad things and sad memories for the past year, we Americans can be consoled with a few optimistic thoughts. The percentages of unemployment were the lowest in years. The American school system improved, and the progress of the space shuttle continued and our country had the privilege of sponsoring the 1984 Olympics.

Tradition has always been a dominant attitude at Great Bridge High School. Every Wildcat, whether they be young or old, possesses a special feeling of Pride. We hold this feeling for all concerned with our school like our friends, our winners, our scholars, and those involved in our clubs.

Though our tradition consists of that Wildcat feeling of pride, it also includes many of the privileges our student body holds or has held in the past. Due to the new building this past year there were some advantages lost, some gained, and some remained the same. One that was sadly given up was that of going out into Wildcat Park during lunch. Another was having our stadium at our school. One gained may be that of the courtyard in the middle of the school. Unfortunately, due to the shortage of space, this was not one for underclassmen. However one that will always remain is that of being a Wildcat and with maintaining the pride that goes along with it.

Kim Everton wishes Scott Gibbs good luck for the upcoming game with Indian River.

Student Life

Students wait for upcoming pep rally in the commons area to raise spirits against the Indian River Braves.

Adventures . . .

A student has so much that must be dealt with. One of the most important, however, is a student's life.

A student's life can consist of many things. Opportunities pass us every day. Some are taken advantage of and others are left for a later date.

Many challenges occur right here in our own school, like the challenge of making straight A's, or the challenge of learning a trade, or maybe just being active in everything the school has to offer.

Another part of a student's life is the outside world. Seniors, especially, must be thinking of this at all times. Jobs become a part of some of our lives and others think only of enjoying their senior year.

Whatever your life consists of, enjoy it, for you can never relive this part of your life as a student at Great Bridge again.

Our Hearts Of Green and Gold

A Night of Colorful Splendor

Looked forward to and planned far in advance, it is no doubt that Homecoming week was splendid. Beginning on Monday, the sophomores showed their spirit by winning hat day. After this loss the seniors won the rest of Spirit week: jersey day, punk day, farmer day, and green and gold day. Students realized how close the magic time was when the Homecoming Court was revealed with sophomores Dana Spencer and Susie Sawyer, juniors Sherri Edwards and Leesa Hartley, and seniors Stacie

Dekker, Jackie Jacobs, and Colleen O'Connor.

The parade dazzled the spectators with the beginning of an enchanting night. The stands were filled with past graduates and those without reserve tickets had a hard time finding seats. Exquisite cars donned with past Homecoming Queens as the future one rode on a float built by dedicated members of the senior class. All of the participants tried to exemplify the theme of Our Tradition Continues With Style.

Stacie Dekker, Jackie Jacobs, and Colleen O'Connor smile and wave as they parade around the track on the exciting night.

Showing their style, Laura Love, Paula Clark (the mascot), and Debbie Hogan lead the parade.

Leading the way, Kirk Eley, Mike Powell, and David Williams break the spirit banner.

Dressed in tuxedo and top hat, the Wildcat in Dorcas' float truly displays the Homecoming theme.

During the national anthem, band members guard the American flag.

With disappointment on their faces, the players on the sidelines look on in disgust.

Posing punk are Barbara Bernard, Tamara Gibson, and Andy Warren.

Jackie Jacobs beams as Mr. Blevins crowns her the 1984 Homecoming Queen.

Showing many hours of work the German Club displays their prizewinning float.

Showing their spirit, these seniors enjoy hat day.

More Than Just Coming Home

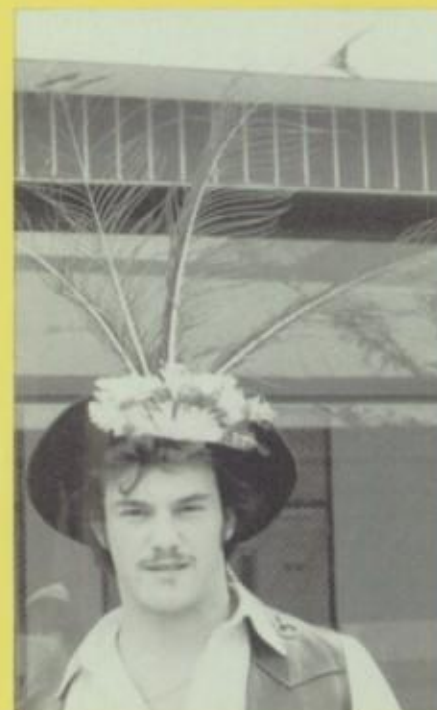

The halftime festivities seemed to momentarily take the attention off of the disappointment of the Wildcats' misfortune. The band, flag team, rifle team, and majorettes gave a flawless performance. The tension mounted as the winning floats were revealed. The German Club was awarded first place, VICA achieved second, and Digna-Phi received third. The awaited moment finally came. Balloons were released as Jackie Jacobs was crowned Homecoming Queen.

As it turned out, the football team did not add another victory to their winning streak. When asked to sum up the cause of the defeat, Doug Wright said, "we were unprepared and thought all we had to do was show up." Yet the students did not dwell on the loss. The night was not over. Picking up their spirits, they attended the Homecoming Dance with an unusual twist, a live band.

Fulfilling the wish to continue the tradition of a spectacular Homecoming, it is no wonder that most expectations were carried out.

Proud as a peacock, Chris Fish poses on hat day.

Whodunnit? "I didn't kill him, which one of you did?"

Death and intrigue were the subjects of the 1983 spring play, The Thirteenth Chair. A murder/mystery in three acts replaced the usual lighthearted comedy presented each year.

The director/producer, Karen Basgier, was aided by senior director, Lindsay Beasley.

The story begins at an engagement party where the topic of discussion is a murder which happened a few weeks beforehand. To possibly find the murderer, the group decides to have a seance. During this experience another homicide takes place. The authorities are called to the scene. A chain of events takes place and the murderer is finally revealed.

The cast of the play was: Connie Bruce (Helen O'Neil), Chris Jensen (Will Crosby), Guy Patterson (Roscoe Crosby), Toni Fentress (Mrs. Crosby), David Lyons (Edward Wales), Casey Ivey (Mary Eastwood), Tracy Gay (Helen Trent), Jane Gibbs (Grace Standish), Eric Carter (Bradish Trent), Mitch Foutz (Howard Standish), Bill Lowery (Philip Mason), Hope Yerby (Elizabeth Erskine), Tom Ruffin (Pollack), Marilyn Parker (Rosalie La Grange), Keith Hughes (Tim Donahue), Tim Ruffin (Sergeant Donn), Charlene Shadley (Dory the Maid), and Matt Stackhouse (Doolan).

The students involved agree that "it was an experience that they would definitely never forget" as stated by Connie Bruce. With this and past performances the spring play is one that shall always be looked forward to.

Expressing her innocence, Casey Ivey talks to Keith Hughes.

Looking in horror, the cast members grieve the "dead" body.

Staring in amazement, Bill Lowery is stunned by what is behind the door.

Guy Patterson and Mitch Foutz look on as Marilyn Parker performs a visual effect.

Swinging to the beat are Heather Buyrn and Mark Wirt.

Many students enjoy the closeness that a prom brings.

Together

Excitement, thrill and class were some of the feelings that the prom created at Chrysler Hall last May.

Last year's junior class officers did a great job on planning and selecting the location. They had been planning this event since July, 1982. All agreed that it was well worth the hard work of raising enough money to go.

The amount raised from candy sales totaled eight-thousand dollars. It paid the cost of the prom and also the band, Redymix, which played a good mixture of slow and fast music. There was also refreshments that gave a nice diversion when taking a break from dancing. The slideshow also provided enjoyment for everyone.

"Just You and I" by Eddie Rabbitt and Crystal Gayle was the theme of the prom.

All in all, the occasion proved to be a great success with well over 650 persons attending. A very special thanks goes to the following people who showed undying dedication toward this endeavor. Mr. Blevins, Mrs. Calhoun, Mr. Spellman, and Mr. Cahoon of the administration. Class sponsor Mr. Welch and class officers, David Williams, Kate Hensley, Warren Oliver, Laura Love, Cindy Horsboll, Andrea Perez, Debbie Hogan, Staci Dekker, Robin Fretwell, and Jackie Jacobs for doing an excellent job.

Checking in are Eddie Barker and date Cindy Judd.

Waiting to be eaten.

One of the great attractions was the balcony.

Opening Night

As the crowd settled in their seats, the girls backstage prepared for their "Opening Night". The Miss Great Bridge theme "Opening Night" seemed appropriate for the 1984 pageant, as this would be the first time a performance had taken place on the stage of the new high school.

Excitement filled the air behind the curtain as the girls took their places on the stage for the opening number. As the curtain opened a roar of applause was heard and the contestants performed beautifully, allowing their nervousness to disappear.

This year's were, April Ridgely, Lynette Johnson, Bridgette Thompson, Andra Hunter, Natalie Pugh, Katharyn Banks, Jody Guard, Susan Whitfield, Michele Pleau, Cassandra Ivey, Keith Ann Whitlow, and Jackie Jacobs.

The judges were, Mrs. Alveita Williams Ewell, Mr. Charles Anton, Jamsina Whitehurst, Ms. Carole Gibson Smith, and Mr. Charles

Dawes. The auditor was Mr. David Holcombe.

As usual, the Miss Great Bridge Pageant was a success, thanks to Mrs. Bernard, Mrs. Pratt, Miss Basgier, Mrs. MacDonald, and Kris Driscoll. While the judges were making their many decisions, the crowd was entertained by Sara Parrot, Miss Great Bridge 1983, Melonie Smith Wilson, Miss Great Bridge 1980, Kim Smith, Miss Great Bridge 1981, Kord Basnight, Mr. Great Bridge 1981, and the Stage Band under the direction of Mr. Kirby.

Some of the prizes which the contestants received were: a one month membership to Body Image; gift certificates from Ann's Hallmark, Susan's Hair Focus; 20 visits to the tanning booth; dinner for two at Golden Corral, Andrea's Pizza, and Last Chance Cafe; plus a $50 savings bond was issued to all contestants.

The Miss Great Bridge Pageant was put on by Dorcas Tri-Hi-Y, and many thanks to them, Mr. Hoffman, Mr.

Randolph and Mr. Roberson.

Many people don't know of all the hard work and time put into this event. The contestants practiced diligently on their talent, and many other things involved. "It all pays off," stated Keith Ann Whitlow, fourth runner-up, "when you step out on the stage and see an auditorium which seats 1400 people almost all filled up and everyone is clapping, cheering you on wanting you to do your best."

One very special guest seated at the pageant was Ericka Pineda. When word of her presence in the auditorium reached the contestants backstage, everyone stopped what they were doing and smiled, knowing in their hearts this was going to be the best pageant ever.

The world is always changing and so is the Miss Great Bridge Pageant. The Miss Congeniality award has always been presented to the contestant who shows vivaciousness, comaraderie, and qualities of friendship reflected in their daily life. This year the award became even more special when Dorcas Tri-Hi-Y voted to call it the Sherry Reeves Congeniality award in honor of all the wonderful qualities shown to us by Sherry.

At the end of the pageant, Casey Ivey won most talented and was crowned Miss Great Bridge of 1984. Casey later said her main reason for being in the pageant was "to perform in front of my peers". One must say she deserved every bit of the applause she received.

The Sherry Reeves Congeniality Award and first runner-up was won by Jackie Jacobs. Susan Whitfield received second runner-up, Katharyn Banks won third runner-up, and fourth runner-up went to Keith Ann Whitlow. Immediately, the saying of "Everyone's a winner" would come to mind, for the Miss Great Bridge Pageant of 1984 was truly an "Opening Night."

All the right moves

Excitement filled the air as the 1984 Mr. Great Bridge pageant came under way. The theme, "All the right moves" was on appropriate title because all ten of the young men did have all the right moves. Beat it started the night off with a bang. The dance number was choreographed by Miss Patricia Daffron. The master and mistress of ceremonies were Mr. Mark Calhoun and Miss Suzy Daffron. That night was filled with mixed emotions of laughter, nervousness, and rewards.

The talents ranged from Michael Jackson to a Great Bridge cheerleader. All the talents revolved around hit music of the year. Starting the evening off was Kevin Harrison singing, dancing, and stripping, to the song Strip by Adam Ant. Tiger Day followed Kevin's act with his rendition of "My Heart Belong to Daddy". "Jump" is exactly what Sean Graham did when he performed a major-ette routine. Who shot Buckwheat? Who would have ever guessed that Buckwheat has a cousin; Shredded wheat played by Ray Alexander. Doug Lynch became Boy George for a night as he sang the hit Do you really wanna hurt me?" Mark Jackson performed 1999. Short People" was brought back to life as Matt Kirkby rolled his belly, dressed as a short person. Michael Jackson made his appearance on stage when Warren Hemmings danced to "Billie Jean". Jody Crow became a cheerleader, shaking his pom poms to "Foot-loose" And to end the talent competition a gaint red flower was brought out as Johnathon Markham went back to being a little child and sang "Flowers are red".

Thanks to the sponsors Delma Tri-Hi-Y guided by Mrs. Warren and Digna-Phi by Mr. Frank. The 1984 Mr. Great Bridge was a big success and was talked about for many days afterwards.

Finally, after the tension was built to its highest peak, the contestants made their way out once more to greet the crowd and learn of the judges decisions. At last the Mr. Nice Guy award was given to Jonathon Markham. Matt Kirkby claimed his first place trophy. The 1984 Mr. Great Bridge Pageant ended as Warren Hemmings made his way to the center of the stage to receive the title of Mr. Great Bridge, $10 off a tuxedo and $50 from Delma and Digna-Phi. Warren was greeted by everyone with much applause and congratulations. The Mr. Great Bridge contestants left for home that night with smiles on their faces for they knew, by the crowd's reactions, the show possessed "All the Right Moves."

Do You Want To Dance?

Since Great Bridge has so many dances, they are a common place for couples to go. If you are going to the dance, you are more than likely, going to eat out first.

There are many places in Tidewater in which to eat. If you want to have an unusual dinner, you can go to Darryl's or Varieties. At Varieties, you can eat with some unusual people, such as Zorro, Groucho Marx, or Princess Leia. At Darryl's you can eat in some unusual places, such as a bus, jail, or ferris wheel. Of course, you can find some normal places too. Mexican restaurants, such as Carlos Murphy's and Chi-Chi's, are popular.

After your dinner, you are ready to dance. There are many occasions that our school celebrates by holding dances. There are Homecoming, Valentine's Day, and Christmas dances. Perhaps the dance that Juniors look forward to most is the Ring Dance but, of course, the biggest dance of the year is the prom.

Sophomore, Steve Furman gives all of his concentration to the math test before him.

Ho, ho, ho, . . . A welcome sight at Christmas is Santa Blevins giving out candy canes to all students.

Keisha Ferguson lurks in the bushes showing her Wildcat spirit.

Best friends show Laura Love that they care by attaching signs and balloons to her car.

Billy Kline ties balloons to his back after receiving them as surprise birthday present.

In an unusual act, Randy Sturk studies as he relaxes on a senior bench.

A Unique Atmosphere

The Great Bridge area well known for its unique ways. Everyone states that we have such a small town. However, look at all the wonderful aspects Great Bridge High School has. People care a lot for everyone and stay in constant contact with all that is going on. We are a special kind of people, the kind that is going to make the world go topsy-turvy. Not only are we active in school, doing what is required, but we do all the extra's that help make this school different from all the rest. Everyone seems to want to jump in and help, whether its to lend a hand to someone in need or just simply to bring a smile to a face that as nothing but a frown. We seem to have made the rule for being there when needed; that's the best policy Great Bridge could ever have.

Sophomores, Paige Stutz and Dawn Spruill, use their lunch period to study for a test.

Excuses, Excuses, Excuses . . .

Here comes the teacher; she is going to ask you for your homework. What excuse will you give her today? You can't tell her you stayed up all night watching T.V., or talking to your friends. Which excuse will you use today?

The yearbook staff asked some teachers and students, and here are some of the excuses that have been given:

"My dog ate it!"

"My little brother ate it."

"It's in my other notebook"

"My Grandfather died"
(for the fourth time?)

"It blew out the bus window"

"It's in Sherry's locker, but she's not here"

"It's due today?"

Not only do students have to use their imaginative abilities to think up those, but they have to have excuses for tardies. For tardies to class people have come up with:

"We had a test last period"

"I was in the bathroom"

"My lab ran longer than it should have"

"I was talking to Mr. Blevins"

For tardies to school there are:

"I had a flat"

"I overslept"

"I just got here"

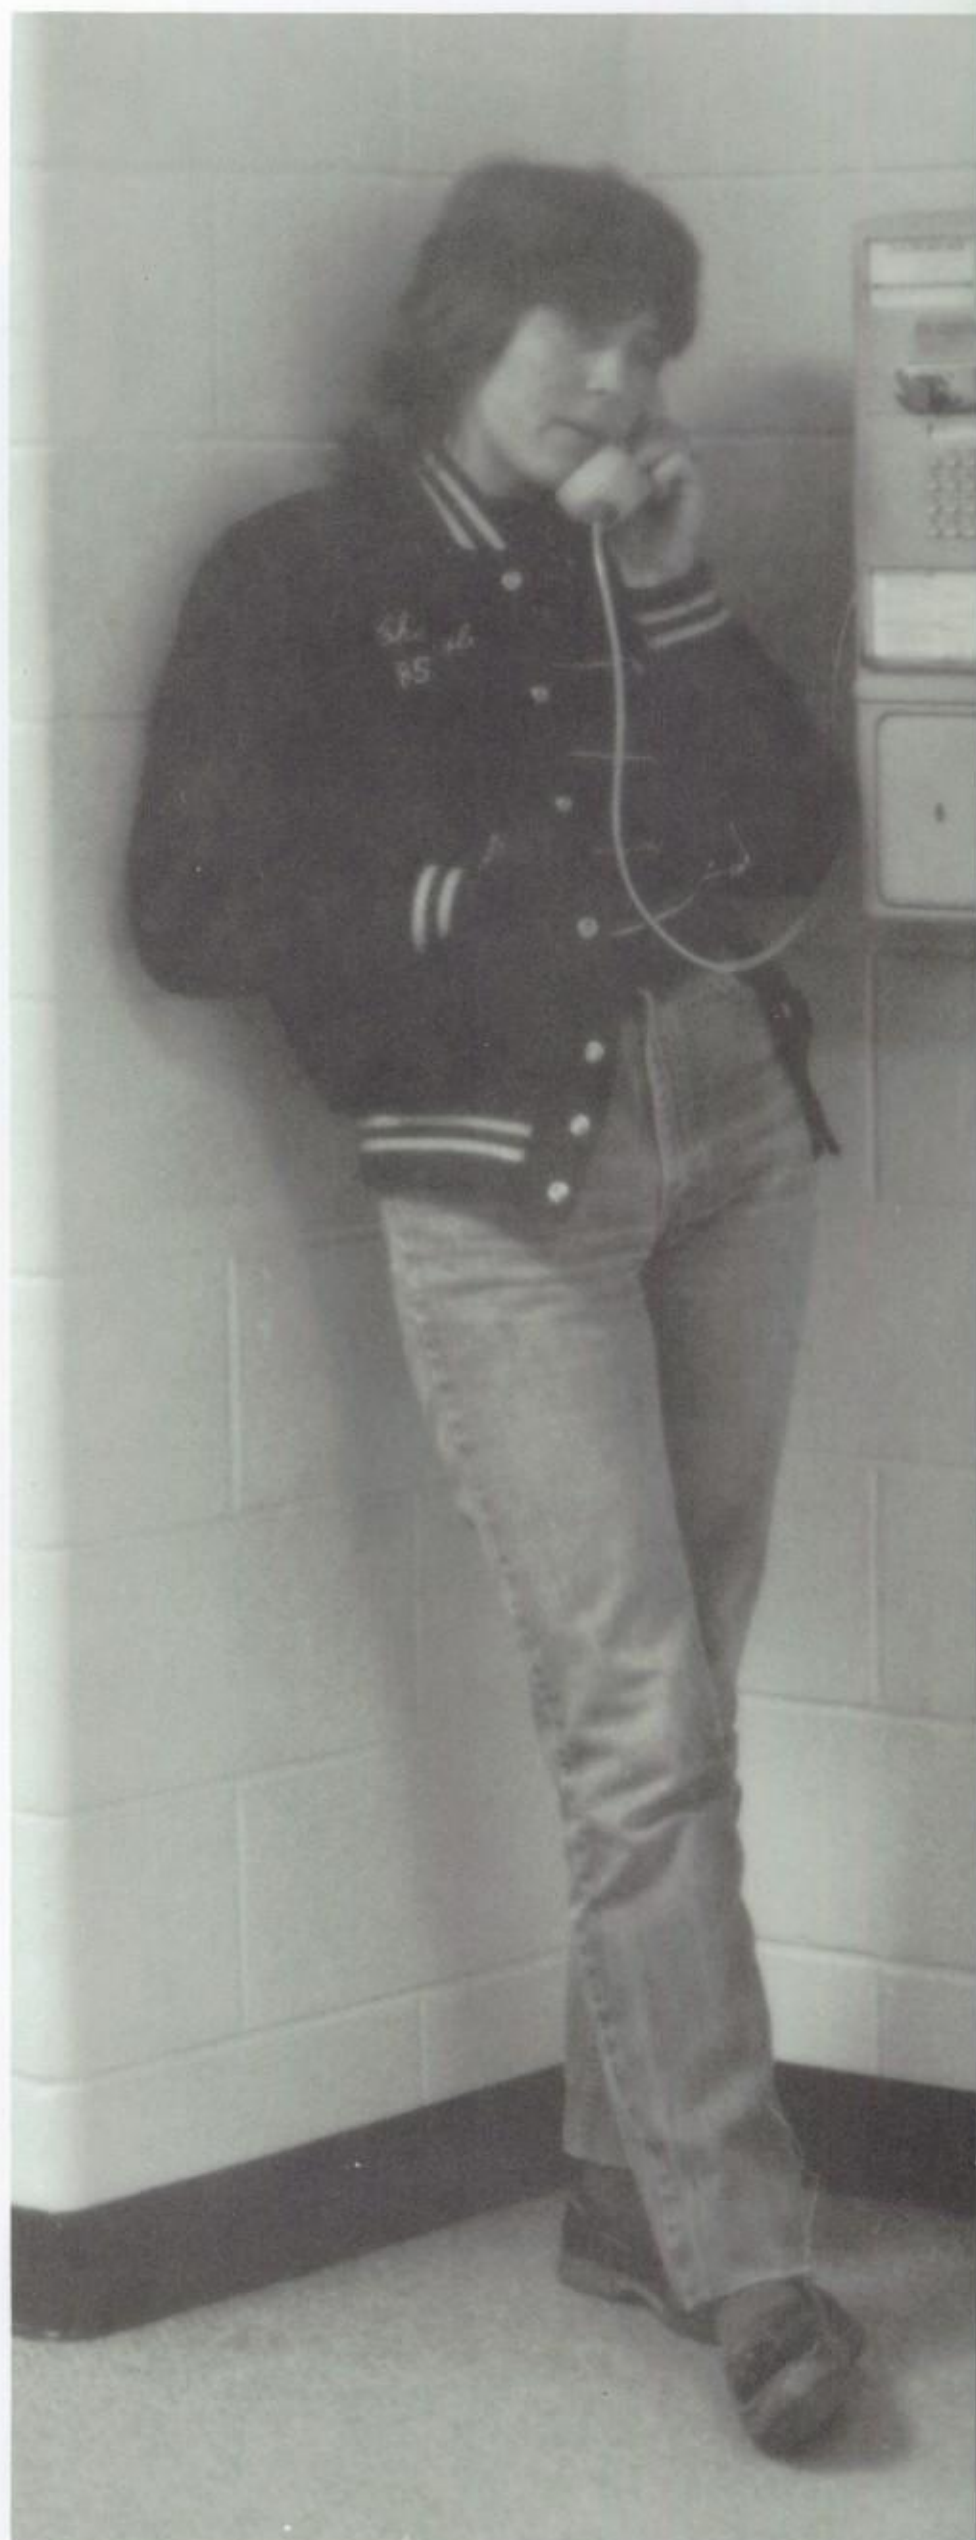

"My car wouldn't start"

It seems that it is easier for students to make up excuses, than it is for them to do the work. Whether this is true or not, I'm sure the teachers find it amusing even if they do not approve.

Reggie Smith and Lisa Hord work on coil pots in their ceramics class.

Cheryl Evens uses her lunch time to talk on the phone.

Andy Warren helps with decorations before the Homecoming Dance.

Billy Pucket and Steve Pardue discuss some possible future plans.

Lovingly smiling, Bridgette Thompson and Keith Ann Whitlow prepare for the walk-a-thon.

Friends Till The End

Throughout our high school years many acquaintances are found and sometimes lost. Some of us, however, are fortunate enough to hold onto our lucky star. This to you might be a girlfriend, boyfriend, best friend, dog, stuffed animal, or just a dream, but whatever it is, it helps you make it through all aspects of life.

Many times our love for each other is tried and found guilty, leaving us out in the world alone and somewhat helpless. It always seems, however, that somehow, somewhere, there is always another friendly face welcoming us into their heart.

We should feel extremely privileged to have the opportunity to feel in our hearts so much love from others and in return, being able to show our companion how much we truly care about them.

For You, My Friend

I send you a smile
for just being there.
By my side when I'm down
And showing that you care.
I send you love
for caring for me
when I was sick or hurt
or wanted company.
I send you a rainbow
for saying to me,
The sun needs the rain
for a rainbow to be.
I'd send you the world
if dreams could come true,
for a friend takes it all
then returns it to you.

Debbie Taylor and Robin Sawyer prove their friendship before the camera.

Laura Hofer and Warren Oliver share a moment of playful happiness together.

Stacie Dekker gives Kirk Eley a loving hug after a winning football game.

Senior Chris Fish and Junior Tonya Hoffman relax at lunch from a busy schedule.

Seniors Bridgett Thompson, Keith Ann Whitlow and Elizabeth Johnson share some laughs in the commons area.

Our Friends

A meeting place in the morning is the commons area for friends Bruce Lohr, Debbie Pheuffer and Anna Gadow.

Always Remembered . . .

Writing the definition for "friend" would be virtually impossible. Never can the experiences and the feelings of loyalty, trust, and love be put down on paper. Acquaintances made in high school are those which last a lifetime. These are the people that we grow up with, are comfortable around, cry with, laugh with, and share with. With every event, competition, and award we cheer on the members of a school of which we are proud to be a part. Because we know and love our friends so much, they perhaps become a permanent part of ourselves.

Cindy Horsboll and Leslie Bush, concealed their drinks on the MGA trip, even though it was only 7-up.

Nags Head held dreams for many. Missi Martin and Leslie Turlington's came true in "this other world."

Future plans turned to smiles as graduation approaches for Scott Wells and Randy Sturk.

"Summer-itis" struck Larry Vance, Mark Thompson, Billy Theime and Fred Denny during class picnics with a dance.

Kevin Benedict returned to school to share his laugh with Keith Ann Whitlow, Sheri Scaff and others who saw his smiling face.

Weekends

Friday — 3:14 — Beware all outsiders who stand in the now deserted hall. In one minute a mad rush of students will emerge and race for transportation home. The weekend has begun . . .

A survey of the senior class revealed that the majority ventures to the beach, no matter what the weather or season. They go anywhere from Virginia Beach to Nags Head to Hatteras. Not everyone journeys to Virginia Beach for the beach, some go just to cruise the strip. Before closing, Wildcat Video entertained many seniors who did not want to venture to far from home. Others who don't travel far, trek to their boyfriend, girlfriend, or best-friend's house. A few even grab a pizza at a Pizza Hut or wherever the mood leads them.

What do they do?

This same survey showed that many seniors like to party the weekend away. If no party exists they take in a movie or shop with friends. During the day Seniors relax from a hard week at school either by sleeping or other hobbies such as hunting, fishing, or surfing.

No matter what they are doing or where they are, schoolwork usually does not enter most seniors weekend until 9:00 p.m. Sunday night.

The Future: Closer Than You Think

Decisions seem to always stare us in the face, especially in our senior year.

DANGER: SAT's are hazardous to the health, and SAT. doesn't stand for Saturday. In the high school population today, the Scholastic Aptitude Test remains the leading cause of headaches. Then there are the poor souls who get ulcers to go with their headaches . . . Achievement Tests.

When all is said and done, and graduation is over, where will you look for your Excedrine Buddies? In a poll taken of the 1984 Senior Class, the Causeway Staff found over half of the Seniors are planning to stay in this area. Out of 273 people surveyed, 105 plan to stay in the area. Old Dominion seems to be the favorite of the colleges with 55 votes. Virginia Tech. is second with 40 votes. Then there are the few people who want to go to the elustrious and prestigious Pungo Tech. All of this will one day, hopefully, lead to a happy and comfortable future.

What They Want To See And Hear

"JOURNEY", the Seniors favorite group, performed our number one song "Faithfully." Likewise our second best group, "The Police" sings the number two song "King of Pain". Most of those seniors who watch television can be found Tuesday night viewing the "A-Team". In the afternoon Seniors watch their second favorite "Mash". Then there are those few that still enjoy "Leave it to Beaver" and "Fred Flintstone". Homework gives way to Joan Collins, this years best actress on "Dynasty". Joan tied with Christie Brinkley. Others preferred the old actresses like Barbara Billingsly and Marilyn Monroe. Tom Selleck captures everyone's attention as Magnum. Eddie Murphy followed close behind. Old actors popped up here also as George Burns, Bruce Lee, John Wayne and Jerry Mathers as the Beaver.

On weekends, Seniors view many movies. Of all the movies "Risky Business" was the one they wanted to see again. Some prefer television movies like "Gone With The Wind", "The Sound of Music", "West Side Story" and "The Wizard of Oz." Only Seniors could choose so many way out favorites as Senioritis takes over.

All Smiles, the A-Team rejoices over being the Seniors favorite.

Elected Excellence

As the applause slowly died, the candidates gave their last impressions. Puzzled looks were on the faces of the audience. How do you narrow down a large group of well qualified candidates to a simple group of eight Senior class officers. But this task was soon completed and the officers got down to some serious work.

One of the first activities the senior class participated in was the Homecoming Court Float, which was designed by the officers, delegates, and various other members of the class.

Other responsibilities of the officers included planning the Senior Assembly, Banquet, and Breakfast which is held as a final get-together right before graduation.

However all this would not have been possible without the help of the dedicated class sponsors.

Senior Class Officers and Delegates — Bobby Cummings — Parl.; Stacie Dekker — Sec.; Andrea Perez — Rep.; Cindy Horsboll — Treas.; Kate Hensley — Vice-Pres.; Jonathan Markham — Chaplain; Mr. Welch — Sponsor; Debbie Taylor — Delegate; Jackie Jacobs — Delegate; David Williams — President; Holly Hopping — Delegate; Andra Hunter — Delegate.

Just what we've all been waiting for, waiting eleven long years in fact, our SENIOR PRIVILEGES: The exclusive rights given to seniors.

Take lunch for example: A senior has been trying to beat the rush for quite some time now. But as Seniors, we finally can relax, and let our privilege take control of the line situation instead of shoving. "Seniors deserve to beat the rush," says Debbie Taylor. What does Jeff Triana think about them? "Very enjoyable." When asked, Helen Baird replied; "It gives me breathing time. I don't bump into unfamiliar faces." This privilege is one we all looked forward to and treasured once we earned it.

Another privilege earned by the senior class is that of having the Alma-Mater performed while all underclassmen rise to our marching in. This privilege creates mixed feelings. The underclassmen are often forced to stand up. Seniors such as Kevin Abraham feel differently. "It is very nice that we get a chance to be recognized," he says. But we understand how our younger friends feel. Angela Scalise advises the underclassmen, "We deserve to be recognized after making it this far, and when the underclassmen get as far as we have they'll understand the feeling too."

One of the most convenient privileges is that of senior parking. Jon Markham remarks on it. "Seniors, because of our loose schedules and jobs, need and deserve our own special parking places." But there are always those who see the problems of things. And how does Richie Babb feel about senior parking? "Not as much a privilege as last year, when the juniors had to park in the mud."

The newest addition to our privileges is that of senior court. Reactions to this vary because it is the first time a senior class has received this privilege. Holly Hopping has a comical way of describing it. "Great hide-away for seniors to be watched by everyone." Kate Hensley, too, takes the comical approach. "Looks like an aquarium, we ought to have a senior party in it and paint fish on the windows." But Annette Brickhouse tells the bitter truth; "That is the only outdoors we see during the day."

All in all, we are seniors and very proud of it. We are special and the administration here at Great Bridge lets us know this by giving us privileges for our final year. And we repaid them by not abusing them, and to say thanks for the memories.

The Wait Is Over

Underclassmen rise, while Seniors proudly walk in for the school's first welcoming assembly.

Preparing for the future

Pierre Kennedy and Hill Creekmore attended Model Executive Conference.

Don Pearce and Andra Hunter look over what they learned while attending Minority Introduction to Engineering.

Attending Model Executive Government Conference for Great Bridge this year was Hill Creekmore and Pierre Kennedy. Hill played the part of the industrial development director.

This conference, held in Virginia is a state youth exercise. It allows high school students from all over the state to gather in Richmond and experience what the executive branch of state government is like. Participants in the conference met members of government included: Governor Robb and State Attorney General Bailes, and other members of the Richmond community. Acting as members of government and environmental groups, the students debated over the subject of toxic waste and its disposal. The conference lasted a week after which all the members had a final luncheon. Hill and Pierre said they enjoyed going and they learned a lot about our executive branch of our state government.

Another career oriented summer program was Minority Introduction to Engineering. Again two of Great Bridge's students attended, Andra Hunter and Don Pearce. Held in Atlanta, Georgia, at Georgia Tech, they were exposed to every type of engineering. Andra and Don had access to many professionals, who satisfied many curiosities. In the six days they were there the days were filled with lectures, slide presentations, counseling sessions, speeches from individual professionals, and visits to different co-operations. But time was not spent entirely on work, there were also films, talent shows, and parties. Andra relates her experiences as inspiring.

What Does It Take To Be A Senior?

Being included in the "Senior" section involves more than having a picture taken at a studio. Much time and effort is put forth during this special year of your life, which is guided by the senior class officers and senior advisory committee. The reward of your senior year comes when you get involved. Upon reaching the qualifications that go along with being a senior, time seems to spread its wings and fly away. Senior mugs, senior superlatives, senior banquet, senior assembly, senior breakfast, senior T-shirts, Baccalaureate and finally GRADUATION are what you look forward to. When your senior year begins, it's as if the whole world is under your feet, however, here is a small warning . . . don't blink an eye because the title of senior soon turns into that of Freshman!

Seniors show spirit during SPIRIT WEEK

Homecoming is a milestone in a senior's life. It is a time when a classmate becomes Homecoming Queen, not just someone we pass in the halls. The game itself is one of the most important ones we go to in all of our years of high school. Memories are always made at the Homecoming dance after the game. And all of this takes place in one short night. To build up enthusiasm and participation, the S.C.A. sponsors Spirit Week.

Every day a new mode of dress is adopted and everyone comes to school looking somewhat odd, but we have fun just the same. The S.C.A. kicked off this year's Spirit Week with "hat day" on Monday. Suprising everyone, the sophomores won this day with the Seniors in second. Seniors then picked up momentum and continued a Senior tradition by winning "jersey day", "punk day", "farmer/traitor day", and Green and Gold day. We began in a daze, but we showed Great Bridge who has the real Spirit . . . SENIORS.

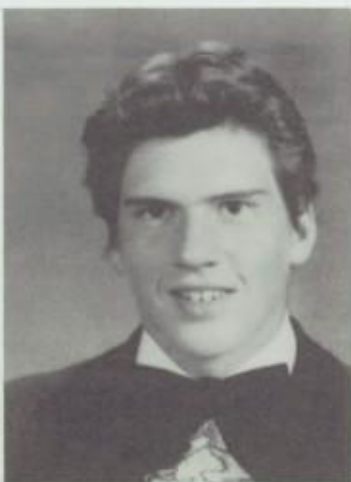

Punk Day found — Chris Fish, Tiger Day, Lynne Chambers, and Scott Wells taking time to discuss the Seniors victory of the day.

Bobby Cummings and Angela Gearhart show their spirit with interesting hats.

Is it contagious?

Jane Gibbs puts her thinking cap on to study with Lynne Chambers and Leslie Turlington.

Tim Travitz finds himself with a terrible case of Senioritis.

Deadlines and due dates, places to go and people to see. The life of a high school student is almost always busy. But the life of a senior becomes the busiest of all. It is funny though, the deadlines and due dates fade to the places and people. This lack of scholarly motivation in a senior can be defined as the dreaded, but inevitable . . . SENIORITIS. Senioritis begins its attack on seniors usually around the beginning of the senior year. However, it has been proven to sometimes strike earlier. Side effects are often dangerous and caution should be used at all times. These effects are; falling grades, loss of interest in serious subjects, a healthy smile, darkening of skin, and an occasional headache. The doctor recommends two aspirin, plenty of rest and good priorities when it comes to missing deadlines.

Senior Favorites

Pizza; the senior class loves it. In a survey of seniors, pizza ran away with the victory. To go along with it, most of the seniors drink Coke, but Sprite was a close second. Of course there are those that enjoy something a bit stronger. The weekends see a lot of food and beverages consumed around the clock. A few unfortunates have to waste this time working. Greenbriar Mall is the most popular place to work with Earles not far behind. Maybe these poor seniors are working to save money to buy their favorite car — a late model Mustang in their favorite color; Blue. Others might be saving for a night off. On this rare occasion they head off for Chi-Chi's or Darylls with friends. A few take the whole day to go to dinner in Hatteras at Duck Inn. Alas the weekend closes and its back to school. Seniors enjoy two classes most: Government and Psychology. This cycle continues throughout the year until finally — Graduation. What favorites lie beyond?

This Mustang, owned by Kristy Melson, is one of many in the Senior Parking Lot.

Kevin Abraham shows Robin Beatty the detail in the mosaic seal given by the Senior class to the school.

The Senior Sign, displayed here in the hallway, was not hung on the school until January.

Where Is It?

A tradition passed on from the old school to the new school is the seal of Great Bridge High. The crest in front of the office was given by the Class of 1984. The original seal was designed by Linny Nero and three of his fellow students in the class of 1965. However, it didn't actually get presented to the student body until 1966. It appeared on the cover of the annual for that year.

An important tradition which has been over looked much of the year is the Senior Sign. It was designed and painted by Andrea Perez and Jonathan Markham. It was constructed by David Williams and Bobby Cummings.

Here's what some people of the senior class thought, "It's the best sign for the best class," replies Tracy Picou." A lot better than the years before," says Kate Hensley." I think it's really great." replies Cindy Horsboll. But the most popular response was, "Where is it?" For half the year it sat in the SCA office. The reason for the delay was that the city had other commitments that had to be taken care of first. But after calling and bugging the people who were to let the senior class hang the sign they finally moved it up on their priority list, until finally on January 16, 1984 it was hung on the school. The tradition of the Senior sign once again continues.

The Class With Class

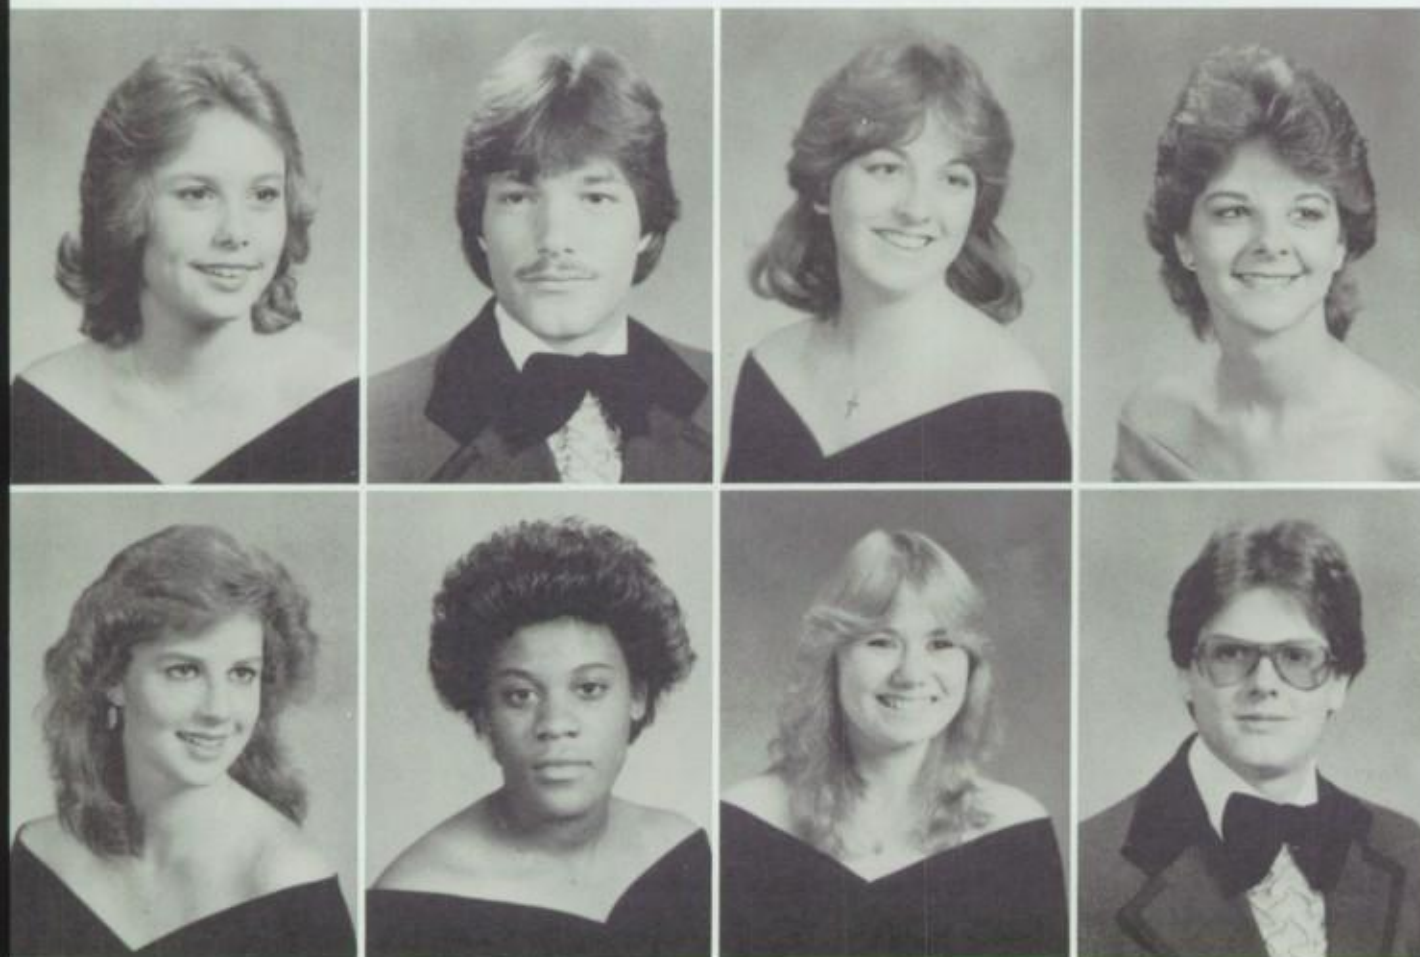

Doug Lynch, Jeff Shumate, Hill Creekmore and Kevin Harrison discuss the advantage of being the first graduating class.

Being among the first to graduate from the new school brought about a few nice advantages for the seniors of 1984. Tiger Day says "I love the attention this class has gotten and the history (we will always be remembered)."

Some of the niceties included having our own design created for the class ring. The senior courtyard was also an appreciated addition to the privileges.

"The first is always the best" says Jimmy Bedsole. But being among the first carries the responsibility of carrying over the old feelings that have been so long a part of the Great Bridge atmosphere. Lois Taylor puts it all in a nutshell in her statement, "it's an honor and responsibility to carry on the tradition and pride."

New Insight For Four

Christmas time invited our exchange students Yuka Nishimoto, Javier Hernando, Alberto Barreda and Victor Galindo to join in the American tradition of tree decorating.

Every year Great Bridge is fortunate enough to have the honor of meeting students who live in other countries. This year four students, two from Mexico, Alberto Barreda and Victor Galindo. Javier Hernando is from Spain, and Yuka Nishimoto is from Japan. These four guest have joined our family of tradition and pride.

The students here should be happy to know that all four newcomers have enjoyed their visit and think that we are very friendly.

Alberto will be returning to Mexico to go to college and possibly come back here to finish his schooling. He wants to major in engineering.

Victor has enjoyed meeting all of the Great Bridge people. He has visited some hang outs of this area such as Flipper McCoys, school dances, and a few more places.

Javier will be returning home to Spain and finish high school. Busch Gardens, Nags

Head, Va. Beach, and downtown Norfolk are a few places he has seen. According to him, we have many opportunities for us here. For example, chorus and band, also, our school, is not strict.

Yuka would like to come back again in the future. She wants to add to her collection of memories, the downtown area. This is something she had not seen. In Japan, they have no class ring, prom, or dances, and neither Spain nor Japan engage in the ceremony of caps, gowns and tassle.

They have enjoyed their stay in the Great Bridge area very much, and feel that this was an experience well worth their while. We can definitely say that Great Bridge has enjoyed their company and hope they will return soon. We wish you, Alberto, Victor, Javier and Yuka, much luck throughout your lives. We will never forget you.

Enriching

During the summer when most students were lounging on the beaches and catching those awesome waves, a certain group of students were off studying at Longwood or Lynchburg colleges. They attended Boys or Girls State and Governors School.

David Williams, Mark Wheaton and John Pilch went to Boys State while Holly Hopping and Robin Lockhart attended Girls State at Longwood. Though they were separated into two groups, the males and females did essentially the same thing.

Students from all over Virginia attended "schools" to learn more about how our government works. They elected city representatives and drafted bills to be made into laws. Girls and Boys State took place in July and late in the summer Kathryn Banks and Robin Fretwell attended Governors School.

Governors School also took place at Longwood college however, the procedures were different. Robin and Kathryn concentrated more on enriching their culture than politics. They attended classes dealing with personal values, ceramics, literature, mathematics, and some on politics.

Both sessions turned out to be rewarding experiences and proved to be worth the time and effort.

“GRADUATION DAY”

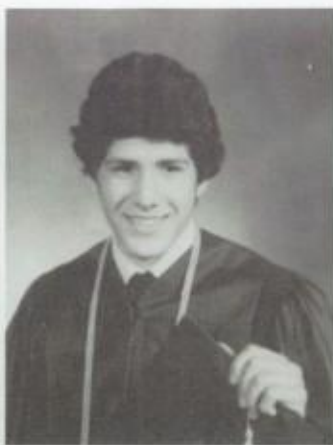

There's a time for joy
A time for tears
A time we'll treasure
Through the years
We'll remember always
Graduation Day

At the Senior Prom
We danced 'til three
And there you gave
Your heart to me
We'll remember always
Graduation Day

Though we leave in sorrow
All the joys we've known
We can face tomorrow
Knowing we'll never
Walk alone

When the ivy walls
Are far behind
No matter where
Are paths may run
We'll remember always
Graduation Day
We'll remember always
Graduation Day!

The Rise and Fall of the Junior Class

This year's junior class consists of some winning students. The President, Leesa Hartley, and all her officers and delegates have put forth a great deal of effort. They must carry the responsibilities of our Junior-Senior Prom, along with the Ring Dance, candy sales, and other duties asked of them.

Something in life that is very difficult to do, serve and please everyone, the Junior class officers and delegates pulled it off smoothly.

Congratulations class of 1985! You have many great leaders. You can look forward to a super Senior year.

Mrs. Warren, Junior class sponsor, looks on as she thinks of the events that will soon take place with her officers.

The Junior class guidance counselor, Mrs. Bond, helps Senior Sean Graham deal with a problem.

Sponsor and Guidance Counselor Friend To All

Mrs. Bond and Mrs. Warren work with the Junior class officers. They help and support them in anyway possible.

Mrs. Warren teaches English and Mrs. Bond is the junior class guidance counselor.

Both, Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Bond, help out with the juniors. These two ladies stand behind their students and push them to strive for big goals. They both have high expectations, but none that can't be reached.

Mrs. Bond and Mrs. Warren are going to be around for a long time. They are too nice and helpful to leave this planet earth.

"What pretty hands you have, my dear, since you got your class ring!"

The Ringing Moment

Class Rings, a very exciting moment for juniors. Each and every junior awaits patiently for that special night when he or she can pick up their ring. That special night is of course "The Ring Dance". These present juniors have been waiting for this moment since they first ordered them when they were sophomores. The class ring symbolizes the achievement of goals and making it to their junior year of high school.

A student preparing for the future as she studies for her geometry test.

Studying? A Habit Well Learned

Books on the table. Pencil in hand and a question type look on your face. Is this the usual scene at your house? Studying is a difficult thing for some people. However, the grades and your performance in school will determine your future. You can change everyone's tomorrows. That is why studying is so important.

Everyone can study! Mrs. Woolery, an English teacher, says that if we take a few minutes to glance over what we have learned today then when tomorrow comes it won't be so hard to swallow.

Studying? Go on, try it! It's good for you in the long run.

Student signs papers helping to sell candy.

Leesa Hartley and her officers make a vow by holding up their candy bars to do their best with the sales.

Successful Sales

Candy sales are one of the most important things that happen during the school year. Not only is it important to the Juniors, but to the Seniors as well. The money from the candy sales goes toward paying for the expenses on the Junior/Senior Prom.

Mrs. Warren, who was in charge of the sale, and with the help of the Junior Class Officers, made this event a complete success.

However different, things were handled well this year. The total amount from sales reached approximately $4700.00 and as candy sales come close to the end Mrs. Warren state, "I am very pleased."

It's Just Another Day

The sun was shining and the sky was all blue. I stepped out of my front door and felt the sun beat down on my face. I went back inside, put on my bathing suit and ran down to the beach only a few minutes away.

Everybody was there, all my friends from long ago. We said our hello's and then ran to the water. It was ice cold but it felt good with the sun shining so bright. We goofed around for hours, it seemed, enjoying the beautiful day. Then the sun began to set and we all said our goodbyes and left. As I walked home I thought of how good it felt not to have to study. I could just lie around all day if I wanted to and not even try to think. As I reached the door mom yelled, "Come on, go pack your things. We have to leave Florida. School started on Monday." The word school brings it all back to me and realizing that Spring Break was over I walked into the bedroom and began preparing myself for that horrible thing they call Monday.

I often think of that time of my life. I enjoyed it so. For awhile I wanted to go back but now I simply think, "It's Just Another Day."

The Look of the 80's

Fads seem to come and go just like the days of the month. But a couple of things seem to be hanging around for a longer period of time.

Shoes, for instance, are ever changing. Vans, though, have been with us for quite a while.

Another fad, that is it seems, here to stay is the "stick up straight in the air" hair.

Collars? They too must match the hair and stand on end.

Although these things are unique, it's good to see Great Bridge getting into and passing the changing times of today.

So what's new in our Wildcat Country? Take a look. It's all around you.

Sophomore Helping Hands

The election of class officers began an exciting year for the Class of 1986. This year's sophomore class was led by Susie Sawyer, president, vice-president Sheila Brown, secretary Dana Spencer, treasurer Jill Smith, reporter Pam Fitzgerald, and delegates Tammy Hedrick, Cindy Porter, Andy Warren, and Wendy Watson.

The sophomores started the year off by selling spirit links for spirit week and decorating for the homecoming dance. Later, they collected class dues and helped the S.C.A. with the walk-a-thon in recognition of Kevin Benedict and Ericka Pineda. Then, they served at the Junior ring dance and sponsored the Christmas Door Decoration Contest.

The sophomores' dedicated sponsors are Mrs. Nan Gallagher and Ms. Suzanne Linney.

The sophomore class accomplished a lot this year and made their first year in high school something to remember.

Reaching to the top, Andy Warren and Sheila Brown apply the finishing touches on decorations for the Homecoming dance.

Taking the staring role, Pam Fitzgerald and Dee Dee Christian string ornaments.

The Sophomore class officers are: sitting: Susie Sawyer, standing: Cindy Porter, Jill Smith, Dana Spencer, Andy Warren, Sheila Brown, Tammy Hedrick, and Pam Fitzgerald.

While trying to take a Biology test, Jeff Hampton, Michelle Evertt, and Katie Culpepper experience one of the more common high school pressures.

Which Is The Better?

There are many advantages and disadvantages of being in high school. To the sophomores, there seem to be more advantages. Are they forgetting the extra homework that seems to pile up so fast? Or that now they are the youngest in the school again? Or that one does have to leave his friends that are still in the junior high. George Pilkington says that now "I don't get to be with my girlfriend".

Of course there are many advantages. Dee-Dee Christian likes the idea of having "more freedom". Then one can also think of the fact that there are only two more years of school left. Steve Rowell points out that now "younger people look up to you, because you're in-high school". So do the advantages outweigh the disadvantages?

This Course Is Driving 'Em Crazy!

What is the use of Drivers Ed? Drivers Education Class is something that all sophomores have to go through, whether they want to or not. At least Great Bridge students do not have to pay extra for the course, unlike Virginia Beach students. Portsmouth students do not even get to take the full course; they only get the classroom part.

Students do enjoy the advantages of the Drivers Ed course. After completing it, they can begin to think about getting their licenses. This is something many people look forward to. If someone is lucky, he may get his own car. With a license and a car at his disposal, he has it made. He has freedom to go where he wants. "You can drive to school" or "go on dates unchaperoned", said Scott Reid. "You do not have to depend on others for rides" remarks Dee-Dee Christian; and the list goes on and on. It seems that the only problem is having to buy the gas.

But then before one can get a license, the course must be completed. Most students do not like the course, especially the bookwork. They feel it is a waste of time. But how many students would learn the rules without it; or even pass the state test?

Even though students do not like the course that much, it is necessary. Without the class, the streets might be a little less safe.

The simulator is part of the class. Here Tammy Hedrick tries to drive along with a film.

Sophomore Pride

With time comes change. Different people are thinking of new ideas. The ideas are similar, but they evolve just as the times do. We have a new school, the last of the "old" Wildcats will be the sophomore class. They will be the first class to spend all three years there, and to actually adjust to the new high school. They will spend more time there than the junior and senior classes.

These students should have pride in this and notice it is a different type of pride. They will carry a mixed pride and tradition of old and new, since they were exposed to different environments.

Kristie Shreeves says, "The class of 86 dominates in a beautiful new school and new surroundings."

"The new school gives us an opportunity to carry out our tradition and pride through the class of 86," says Amy Williams.

All sophomores are required to take gym. This course involve the classroom where they study the rules of driving. It also involves the range and simulator, where the student practices driving. The third part of the course is gym. Why are the students required to take gym? They could just take Drivers Ed. Todd Bennett said "We don't want gym, we want to be able to take another elective, and make Drivers Ed a semester course".

One reason is the fact that the state requires sophomores to take gym. Mrs. Pendleton feels that students should take gym in every grade. When a student is in the elementary grades he learns basic skills in gym. By the time he is in high school he should be able to polish them up enough to really apply them. Still, Robert Hopkins has this to say, "Gym is a waste of time, I get all my exercise at home". Although some students do not like gym, others do find uses for it; such as Kurtis Markham who said, "It's better than going to another harder class". A lot of students must enjoy and consider the course worthwhile, or else why would they have extra gym classes for students who are not sophomores.

Why Take Gym?

Here Mrs. Pendleton helps a student.

Our Academics

Monique Higgins and Tammy Baker broaden their views by using the periodicals in the library.

Making Adjustments . . .

Academics at Great Bridge has always been a source of pride for the Wildcats.

Fortunately this past year was not any different. In fact some students found the workload more overbearing than it had been in the past. The reason may be found in the fact that cracking down became one of the goals for the teaching body. This action produced many groans from discouraged students, however, many appreciated this move and set about making the adjustment.

A Friend You Can Trust . . .

Have you ever felt like there was no one to turn to? No one to talk to? And nobody who really cared? This is a very lonely feeling. Well, whether you realize it or not we all have adults we can turn to. The administration is there to lend a helping hand when ever it's needed. So when you feel like you need someone to talk to go to the administration. They're friends that you can trust.

What Do You Think?

Ms. Moore adds finishing touches to her costume on punk day during spirit day.

This year the teachers have developed many opinions of the new school.

Mr. Lane said, "I think it is fantastic! The classrooms are comfortable and beautiful; what else could we ask for?"

Mr. Edwards says, "I think it is an excellent facility! I hope the students and faculty will take care of it. With proper care this building could last many years."

Mr. Reagon thinks it is great, clean, comfortable and conducive to learning. Mrs. Dunkley feels it is a dream finally realized.

Ms. Moore's opinion is a little different, but I think it raps it all up rather nicely. She was impressed with how quickly it had become a home for the students and faculty. She states, "That just goes to prove, it is the people in the building and not the building itself."

Is Your Teacher Here Today?

Mrs. Ryan substitutes for one of the typing classes. She says, "I have enjoyed being a part of the new school and working with the students."

If your teacher is not here today and you have a substitute, then you can thank Mrs. Cahoon.

Around seven o'clock Mrs. Cahoon is on the phone contacting the substitutes to teach or "watch over" classes for the up coming day. There are about twenty-five to thirty substitutes. The only qualification to be a substitute is to have a high school diploma. The substitutes attend a workshop during the summer then they are approved by the personnel.

Mrs. Cahoon says, "I feel very lucky to have so many good substitutes."

Advantage or Disadvantage?

Do you remember all those mornings when you could not wait to go to school so you could get away from your mom who was bugging you. Do you also remember when you were starving and did not have any lunch money. I bet you would have given anything to have mom or dad around then. This year we had seven students who had exactly the opposite situation. Their parents are faculty members.

When asked about the situation Mr. Schucker replied, "The advantages far out weigh the disadvantages." He has a daughter, Kim, who is a sophomore. He feels that he better understands his daughter because of his daily association with other students. Mr. Dunham transferred from Indian River to Great Bridge High for many reasons, one of which was to work with his two sons. Mike is a sophomore and Mark is a senior. Mark had his dad for calculus and said the only disadvantage was when other students would say something "Dufus" like, "Wadda Ya mean you don't know how to Defferentiate. It's your dad's class." Mr. Dunham feels that Mark could not have a better teacher. Mrs. Hardesty has a son, Randel, who is a sophomore. She said that he keeps her more in tune with whats going on. Mrs. Hobbs has a daughter, Jennifer, who is a sophomore. She is delighted with being able to spend more time with her daughter. Geoff Jerrell said that he had to be on his P's and Q's at all times. His dad, Mr. Jerrell, said that he did not wish to have his son in one of his classes and Geoff agreed. Mr. Jennings has had a son or daughter at G.B.H.S. for every year he has taught here. This year his daughter Cissy attended G.B.H.S. and always having transportation was a definite advantage for her.

Six of the seven students will again have this same situation next year and are looking forward to working with their parents.

TRSDOS???

Mr. Anderson concentrates as he types on the keyboard of the computer.

This computer is a wonderful tool to help the teachers with their work and to help modernize the new school.

As some of you may know the new school is equipped with a computer, a TRS-80 Model 4. It has the language TRSDOS.

The teachers that use the computer find it very helpful. Mr. Douglas feels the school must expand to the ways and means of the future and computers are a very important part of the future. Some other faculty that use the computer are Mr. Anderson, Mrs. Calhoon, and Mrs. Eckleberry; she finds it very helpful in dealing with overdue books. With the computer she is able to track down the people a lot easier. Mr. Anderson thinks it is wonderful having the computer and he thinks we need more. He also feels that the computer allows easy storage and access to information. Mrs. Calhoon finds the computer helpful with the absentee list. Mr. Douglas uses it for such things, as grades and typing up his test.

Stepping Out In Academics

If we look in the dictionary under Academics we come up with a definition meaning "of or pertaining to a school." This could mean many things. We think of academics as classes taken that one must study for. Did you ever think that maybe cheering or playing basketball was included in academics? After all, one does go home and practice until perfection is gained. This is a form of studying.

Academics are a major part of high school and should be enjoyed, instead of disliked, by everyone. Who was it that said, "What you put into something will be exactly what you get out of it." This is well-known by most I'm sure, but the question remains, "Do we put it to use?" Only you can answer this but let us hope that we all put our best foot forward in all that we do.

School Away From School

Five hundred and twenty students attended the Chesapeake Technical Center this year. Many of these students came from Great Bridge High School. They took courses such as Agriculture Production and Science Mechanics, Auto body, Cosmetology, Electronics, and Fashion Design. Altogether there are fourteen different courses. Modern laboratory and classroom facilities are available to all students. All classes meet for three periods each day. The structure of laboratory and class work, in most areas, approximates one-third class work and two-thirds hands-on experience. Most programs consist of five hundred and forty hours of training per year for two years.

Any students in Chesapeake's secondary schools can take courses at Tech. Through the Technical Center students gain sufficient knowledge and skills which enable the students to function at the job entry level in his or her chosen occupation.

Pure Dedication

Picking the person to whom the 1984 Causeway would be dedicated turned out to be a difficult task. When the special dedication committee was asked what qualities they thought this person should possess, each person came up with his own interpretation. Some of their thoughts on the subject included that they should be dedicated, involved, patient, friendly, and have a cooperative attitude. When asked who in the faculty or administration deserved this honor, again each had his own opinion. Finally a man well deserving of this honor was chosen.

The name of the person chosen was Mr. Bill Welch who has been teaching in Wildcat Country for the past seven years. Before coming to Great Bridge, Mr. Welch lived a life of variety and excitement. First, after graduating from college, he went into banking and then he joined the Air Forces form of the secret service. After a few years he decided to do what he really wanted to do, teach.

After finally coming to Great Bridge in 1977 he quickly became a well-loved and dedicated member of the faculty. His activities during the past several years have included coaching golf, junior and senior class sponsors, and as of this year SCA sponsor.

Mr. Welch is one person who stands out in a crowd. Not only is he an excellent teacher but a wonderful friend. As long as Great Bridge has him, we will always have our tradition and pride.

Our Winners

Charlene Ryan and Paula Clark, our Wildcat mascot, cheer Great Bridge to victory.

Dedicated to the game . . .

Winning at Great Bridge High School is more than just having a season of so many wins and no losses. Of course, that is one half of winning, but to win, dedication and teamwork are essential.

Day after day our talent-students spend their time preparing for a successful season. Just as athletes, our coaches dedicate numerous hours planning, teaching, and reviewing.

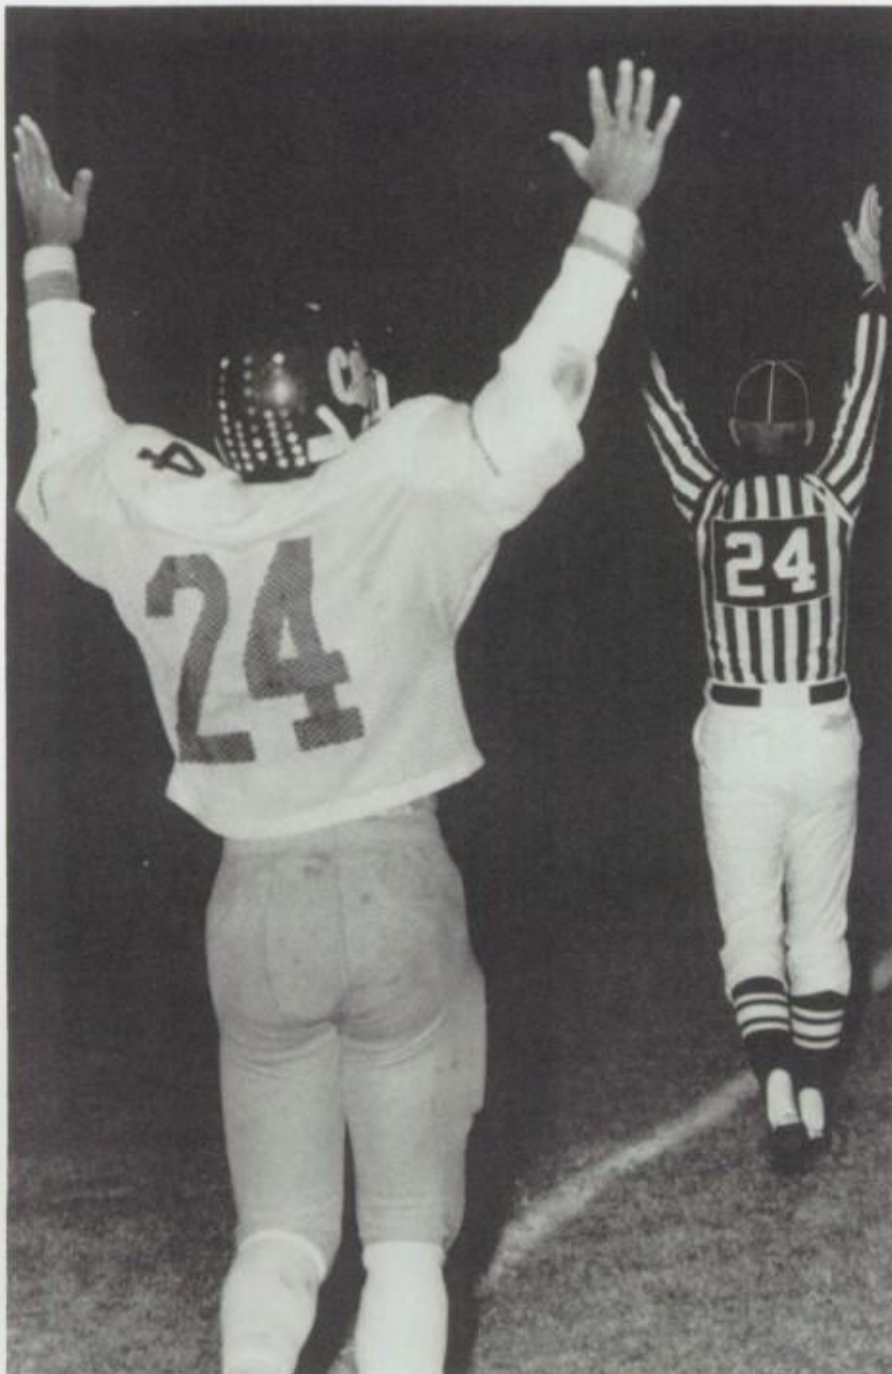

Naturally we stand proud whenever we hear of a Great Bridge victory. But this is not the only type of winner, there are some who have never played a game and teams have never won. These are the dedicated athletes. No matter what kind of athlete people are, they become true winners for they give everything and try their very best.

Cats Grab Conference

Uplifting hearts, heavy breathing, and covered eyes, were the sights and happenings of many football games this season. Excitement swarmed the spectators as unpredictable games were won!

With a regular season record of 8 wins and 2 losses the Wildcats became the South-eastern District Champions. Great Bridge then advanced to the semifinal eastern region playoffs, beating the Hampton Crabbers 17-14 in an overtime field goal by Scott Davis. The following week the Wildcats traveled to Kellam High to take on Kempsville High in the eastern region Champion. Great Bridge played an excellent game, but unfortunately lost in the final seconds by a score of 27-21.

As usual, everyone of the Wildcat coaches did an outstanding job of getting the team ready for each game.

First year head coach Bob Robinson, Karl Roberson, Phil Webb, Woody Koonce, and Nathaniel Alexander all contributed numerous hours.

Not only did the Wildcat athletes excell in their regular season, they had many honorable awards. Every year an all-district, all-tidewater, and all-state team is picked. These individuals never play as one, but are picked because of outstanding achievements during their regular season play.

On the all-district first team, Great Bridge had six people to make it. On offense Doug Wright, William Tillett, and Scott Davis. On defense: Kirk Eley, Don Pearce and Randy Sturk in two positions. Second team offense, Bobby Harrell and Kenny Dawson, and on defense Jimmy Bedsole and Chris Fish. One defense honorable mention went to Chuck Unser.

Doug Wright for offense, Randy Sturk and Kirk Eley for defense, all made the All-Tidewater first team. For the second team, William Tillett made it for offense.

Last but surely not least senior Randy Sturk made the

All-State football team. He was also named most valuable player on the Great Bridge football team, and also named defense player of the year.

As every season comes to an end, all that is left are memories. The memories of this year's team should be never forgetting ones, for they have shown by their excellent season, how tradition and pride should be displayed. Team member Chris Corprew summed up the Wildcat's spectacular season by saying, "Togetherness as well as individual effort made our team work. We won together, we lost together, and we cried together."

During a time out Coach Robinson gives the Wildcats a pep talk.

Running back Kenny Dawson out-plays the other team to move the ball for a touchdown.

In overtime, Scott Davis kicks for a 3 point edge over Hampton.

Wildcats Turn Crabbers Trappers

Friday night, November 11, 1983, the Hampton High School Crabbers entered the game as the number one ranked team in the state. Great Bridge did not let the ranking bother them because the team managed to pull ahead and win. The game was said to have been one of the greatest comebacks in Eastern Regional playoff history.

Trailing, 14-0, in the third quarter, defensive end Randy Sturk signaled Great Bridge's comeback by intercepting a pass at the Hampton 24 yard line and returning it for a touchdown. Chuck Unser also intercepted a pass and returned it 16 yards to the Hampton 32. William Tillet ran for the second touchdown and Scott

Davis tied the score with a conversion. Great Bridge again had possession of the ball but Kenny Dawson fumbled.

The game then went into the first overtime ever played in the Eastern Region playoffs. The Great Bridge offense got close enough to the goal to kick a 23 yard fieldgoal, Great Bridge was ahead for the first time in the ball game. Hampton got the ball and had fourth down on the two yard line. They went for it, but the outstanding Great Bridge defense prevented a Hampton win. Coach Bob Robinson commenting on the game by saying, "Our kids never quit. It was a tremendous effort."

Before the kick, Levell Sears, Kirk Eley and Chuck Unser, retreat to the sidelines.

Waiting for the next play, Chris Corprew tries to find the correct position.

Cinderella Season Comes To An End

With an estimated crowd of over 10,000, the Great Bridge Wildcats traveled to Kellam High School to take on the number two ranked in the state, Kempsville Chiefs.

Falling behind Kempsville by two touchdowns at half-time, and then rallying to take the lead in the second half, Great Bridge followed a similar pattern as the week before. As one radio announcer and several newspapers put it, "Great Bridge is the Cinderella team." If you were not at the game, "missed the best of the year." Everyone on the team played an excellent game.

Quarterback, Scott Gibbs, passed to George Happer for the first touchdown and got the spirit of the fans and other team members back up, after being behind by a score of 14-0. In the third quarter, defensive back Don Pearce ran for a 33 yard touchdown. Followed by a 14 yard pass from Gibbs Randy Sturk, made the Wildcats last and only touchdown in the fourth quarter.

The Wildcats were ahead, when the "key play" of the game occurred. There were 35 seconds left and Kempsville had fourth down. Quarterback Gil Benson completed a pass over the middle to Geof Fout. Fout somehow held on the ball after being hammered by two Great Bridge defenders. This gave Kempsville a first down and they won on a final drive by T.J. Morgan, with five seconds left on the clock. Great Bridge coach Bob Robinson said, "I didn't see any way he (Fout) could hold on to that football." The Kempsville players were so confident they had the game in the bag. On that Friday, November 19, 1983, Kempsville won, but just barely by a score of 27-21. As the victory slipped right out of Wildcats hands in the final seconds, nothing can bring back that feeling of defeat. After many hours of hard practicing, the Wildcats proved to Kempsville how tough they really were.

Even though every Great Bridge football member looks back on the loss and realizes how close they came to being victorious, they should remember they made history and no one will ever forget them!

For the so called Cinderella team, "Midnight came too soon and the slipper did not fit."

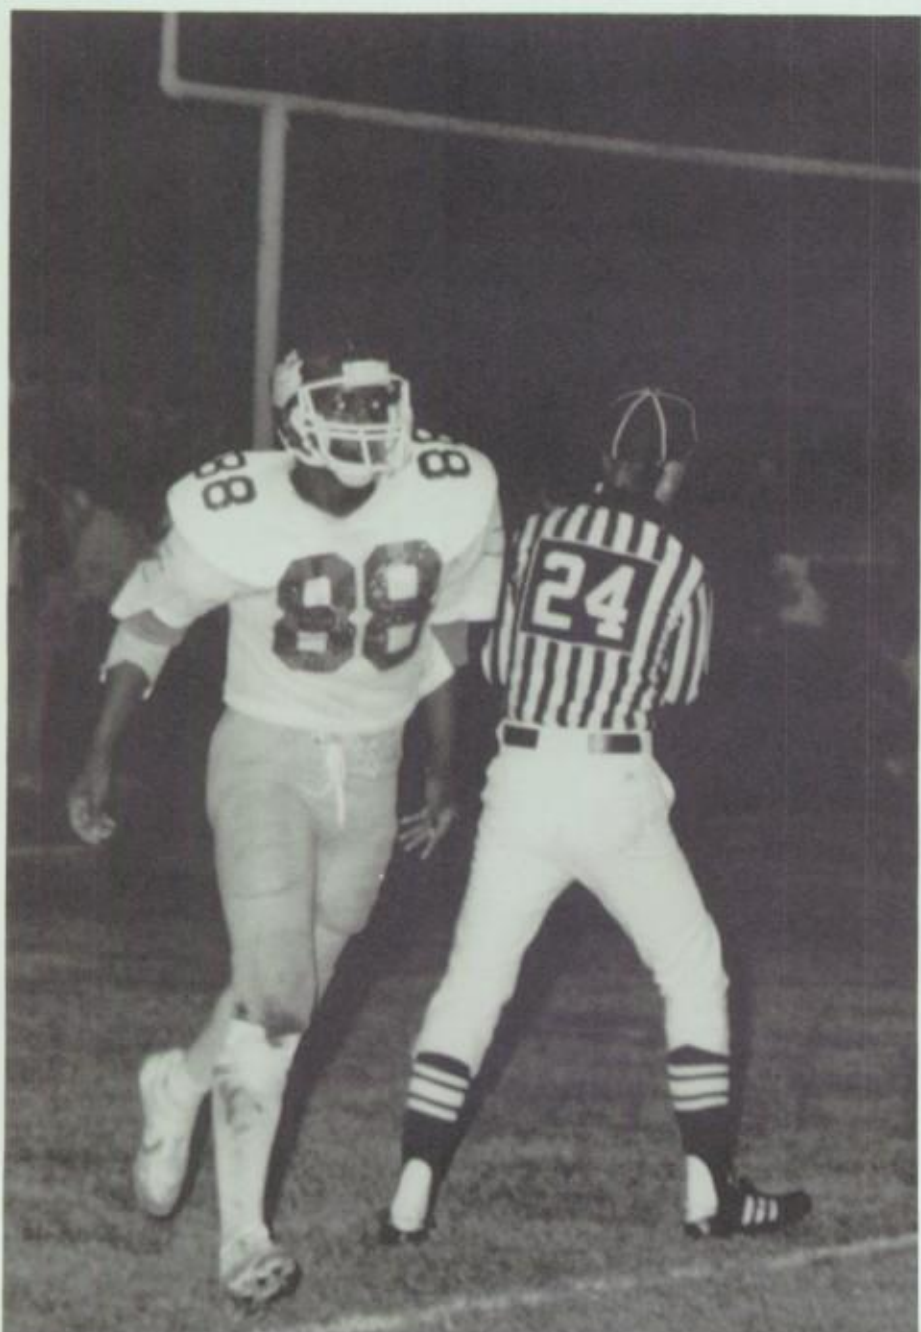

Enthusiasm fills the team as they comeback ahead.

Season of Success

Hard work and determination paid off for the junior varsity football team. With the togetherness of the team and coaches they were able to place second in the Southeastern District finishing only behind Western Branch.

Many outstanding plays were made by Steve O'Neal, Kent Basnight, O.T. Holton, Junior Holloman, and Jeff Killan. Quarterback Mark Harris, running backs, Anthony Lawrence and Mike Perez, led the team in yardage gained and points scored. The team record consisted of 7 wins and 3 losses.

A great asset to the team was the coaching staff, led by Mr. Woody Koonce who coached the offense while Nathaniel Alexander coached defense, and Bob Hanna, a former wildcat player helped when possible.

Reaching For Spirit

Whether Junior Varsity or Varsity, Great Bridge has had a very good group of talented cheerleaders. Due to the dedicated help of sponsors Mrs. Kiskinis, Ann Meyers, Diane Choi, Carolyn Burbage, and Mrs. Linney, the girls have had an outstanding season.

Starting early in the summer our Varsity and Jr. Varsity football and basketball cheerleaders went to camp at Old Dominion University. They spent 5 long days perfecting their skills and competing against other schools. The girls won many excellent awards such as spirit sticks and learned many new cheers.

Every spring we have cheerleading tryouts. The Varsity cheerleaders chosen for this year were: Jill Smith, Robin Knowles, Dee Cormier, Susie Sawyer, Denise Novak, Christy Daniels, Brenda Parker, Melinda Burbage, Wendy Watson, Jennifer Maxwell, Dana Spencer, and Keisha Ferguson.

For the second year, Great Bridge High School has picked a group of 7 girls to cheer for our wrestling team. The team consists of 2 seniors, 4 juniors, and 1 sophomore, who all faithfully cheer their team on.

Passing Shots

With only three returning starters, the girls tennis team overcame many obstacles to place third, behind Indian River and first place Western Branch. The girls also finished second in the Southeastern District Tournament, finishing behind Western Branch who placed first in both district and regional play. The team had a total of 6 wins and 3 losses. The girls were further handicapped by the fact 3 of 8 players had no experience in competitive tennis.

Another factor was that the new school has no available tennis courts on which the team could practice and play. Therefore the girls were forced to hold matches and practices at the junior high school.

Suzy Mizelle and Susan Gray were the teams most valuable players, they were also the #1 and #2 players. At the #6 position was the teams only senior and named the most spirited player. Claudia Clark was the team member with the most potential. The players were as follows, Suzy Mizelle, Susan Gray, Kim Everton, Claudia Clark, Kathy Everton, Barbara Bernard, Janet Wrestler, Shannon Nolan. "With alot of hard work and practice the team should win the district" said, Gary Norfleet.

Keeping in Stride

Pain, sweat, and determination made the Great Bridge Cross Country team the surprise of the district. Although the team began practicing relatively late, they improved rapidly and speed increased daily.

The boys' team finished with a 3-3 record in the district. In the city meet the Wildcats placed fourth with every team member running their best time. In the district meet, the highlight of the season, the boys' team finished fourth, qualifying for regionals. Sinclair Lewis finished fifth and David Halsey ninth in the outstanding effort.

David Halsey led the Wildcats most of the season as the number one runner. An end of the season spurt by Sinclair Lewis enabled him to achieve the number one position in the final meets. Both Halsey and Lewis were medalists in the district meet. The rest of the boys' team were John Greenside, Quinton Gates, Brian Carpenter, Pete Kuykendall, Kevin Harrison, and Pierre Kennedy.

The girls' team possessed excellent talent but lacked in depth for the sole reason that they had only five runners. Dawn Spruill, their number one runner, finished first in the city meet and because of an injury she was not able to compete in the district meet. Kim Schucker and Theresa Earles qualified for regionals by placing in the top fifteen in the district meet. The other runners for the girls were Andrea Gobble and Barbara Skipper.

The majority of the varsity boys and all of the girls will be returning next year to compose experienced teams.

Teeing Off

On a hot summer day in August, coach Bill Welch and the 83-84 Golf team began practicing for a championship. The golf season was moved to the fall but it turned out to be the best season ever for the Great Bridge swingers. The team started out the season by defeating Deep Creek and going on to post a 7-1 record in district play tying for first place with Indian River and Churchland with this record the team qualified for the district tournament. This two day tournament was held at Sleepy Hollow Golf Course in Suffolk on the first day and Stumpy Lake on the second. During the two day tournament the team posted a 678 total finishing second behind Indian River. By finishing second the team qualified for the Eastern Regional tournament held on October 11 for the first time in the schools history. This tournament was a one day event held at Hell's Point Golf Club in Va. Beach. The team consisted of seniors Jeff Shumate, who was the team's medalist, most valuable player, Kevin Abraham, Tim Travitz who was the teams most improved, junior Chad Sartain, and sophomore Mike McFall. The team won the Eastern Regional tournament finishing 3 strokes in front of runner-up Kempsville. Jeff Shumate led the team with a score of 74, he was also the medalist of the tournament. Winning the tournament qualified the team for the State finals of which they came in sixth ending the most successful season by any Great Bridge Golf Team.

Bump, Set, Spike

By starting the season early the girls' volleyball team made its mark in the Southeastern District this year with its best record ever; they also won their first Southeastern District Championship. The team was sparked by a positive, hard working, excited attitude carried by all the players, managers and the coach. Andrea Riddick, the only starting senior along with Kelly Mills, Kim Sparrow, Paige Stutz and Brenda Brummel were all the ferocious spiking hitters. Setting the ball with amazing consistency were Bonnie Brett and Natalie Pugh.

The Lady Wildcats are looking forward to the start of next season. They hope to continue their winning ways with constant, hard hitting, aggressive volleyball.

The most exciting match of the season was their sixth in which the 4-1 Lady Wildcats butted heads against the 5-0 Lady Tigers from Oscar Smith. In their match our girls were amazing with a tremendous number of spiking movements and blocks to win in two straight games 15-8 and 15-13. "Working together was the key to the winning season," SUSIE KITTS.

Heart Breakers

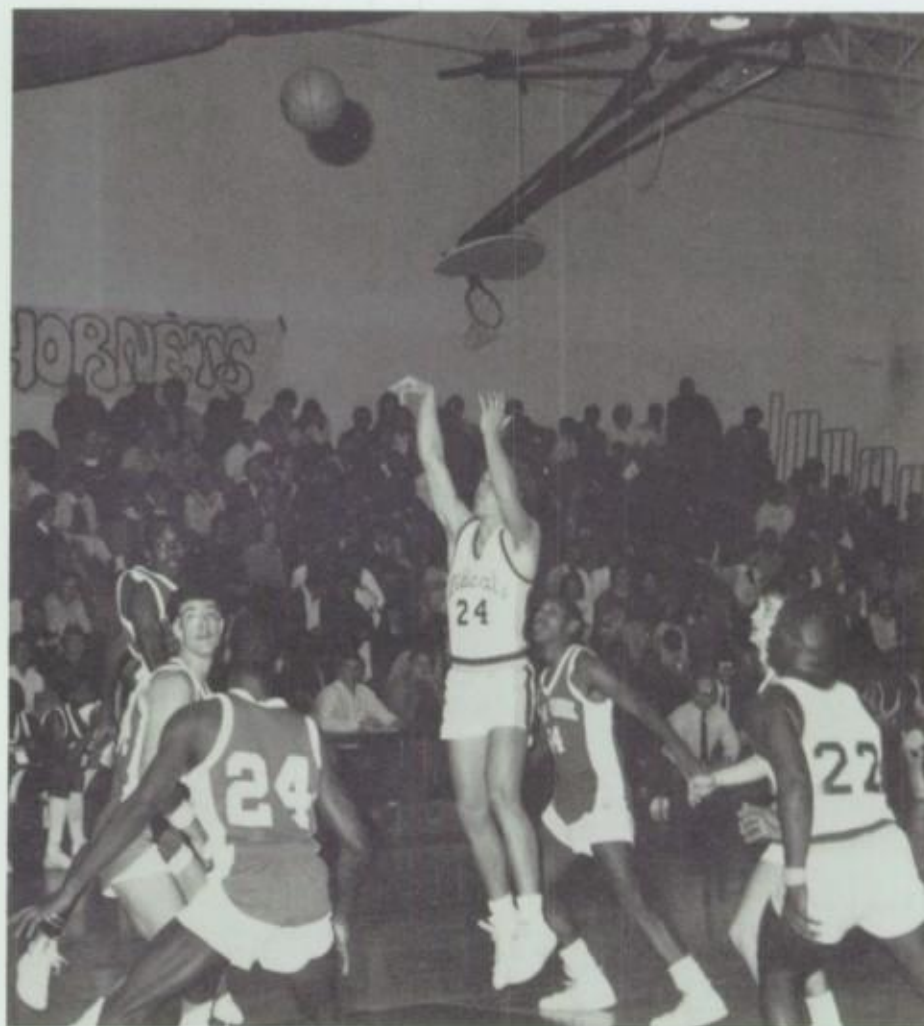

The highlight of the season for the 1983-84 Wildcats basketball team was in the Southeastern District Tournament where the wildcats defeated number one seed Norcom by a score of 69 to 58. Garrick Davis led the victory with 34 points, 15 rebounds, and 5 blocked shots. It was a great team victory.

Garrick Davis led the team in scoring in the 83-84 season with 495 points for an average of 21.5 points per game. He also led the team in rebounding with 289 for an average of 12.6 per game while leading the team in assists with 54.

The team scored 1,312 points for an average of 57.0 while allowing our opponents 57.6 points per game.

Garrick Davis ended his basketball career at Great Bridge High School by being chosen on the first team of the following teams. He was All-Chesapeake City, All-Southeastern District, All-Southeastern District Tournament, All-Tidewater, All-Eastern Regional.

Other senior team members who played for the cats were Kevin Abraham, George Happer, Mike Powell, Bobby Harrell, Kevin Harrison, Curtis Mitchell, Vernon Gordon, and Melvin Bell. Cats Tip Success

A deep assortment of talent provided for yet another outstanding Lady Wildcat basketball team. Coached by Mickey Ottley the Varsity girl's compiled a district record of 8 wins and 1 loss and had a phenomenal record of 9 straight victories. The Wildcats achieved a ranking of third in the Tidewater coaches poll.

Stephanie Green, Andrea Riddick, and Trena Clark led the cat's in scoring, Riddick and Kelly Mills led the team in rebounds. Dawn Spruill was the leading free throw shooter. The team was also led by forward Paige Stutz and guards Alicia Davis and Suzy Mizelle. Other members contributing included senior Heather White, juniors Bonnie Brett and Susie Kitts, sophomores Donna Wenger and Kim Tomsieski.

The Wildcats lose only three seniors and should again be a Southeastern District power next year. Also the momentum from a winning season this past year should carry over and provide for a good start next year. The Lady Wildcats have had a tradition of winning and this year was no exception.

Reaching Goals for the Future

Inexperience was the J.V. Boy's Basketball team's problem this year as they started off losing their first 7 games in close contests. The wildcats won 4 out of the last 5 games to even it's district to 4-4. The wildcat's received outstanding performances from Norman Jackson, Mike Perez, Tovarris Epps, Linwood Maddissa, and Joe Bright. They got excellent play off the bench from Melvin Williams, Jeff Castelloe, Rudy Jackson, Willie Murray, Tommy Puke, Garrell Armstrong, and Herbie Ruffin. Players returning with high hopes for next year include John Lancaster and Pat Phe- lan.

A winning record of 7-6 was achieved by the J.V. girl's Basketball season this year. Coach Regan directed his team through determination and hustle to win 5 games in a row. The team included sophomores Kim Everton, Brenda Brummel, Regina Etheridge, Bertelle Bright, and Anita Hested. The freshman players were, Kathy Everton, Glenda Gibbs, Lee Larson, Patty Rhodes, Tiffany Manning, Courtney Ritter, Amy Musacchio, Kristie Beek, and Jennifer Overbak. The cat's expect a promising future with all of their returns.

Holding on for Victory

Wrestling this year, under new Coach Wayne Martin, shows the potential that Great Bridge has. The team compiled a commendable 11-5 dual meet record. Also, the Matcats were 2nd in dual meet honors in the Southeastern District, 4th in the Southeastern District Tournament and in the top 10 in the highly competitive Eastern Regional Tournament.

Kord Johnson and Brett Benham qualified for the State Tournament this year, and as of this writing they are looking forward to that competition. Both Kord and Brett are returning next year to form a strong nucleus around which many outstanding wrestlers are returning; some that showed their mettle this year are Matt Kirkby, probably the most improved on team, Jon Jackson, Anthony Lawrence, runner-up in the district; Geoff Jarrell, Mike Boyd, Fred Benham, Billy Curling, Brent Boyd, and Kevin Smith. We lost only one wrestler this year, Ulysses Johnson, who did a fine job for the team.

With a fine style, Brent Boyd retains his title.

A Flip Ahead

The major accomplishments for the gymnastic's team was the fielding of a team, after not having a team last year. The second most important accomplishment was the development, within the girl's own physical and mental capacities of what it takes to be a competitive gymnast. The team spent most of the season starting to develop the concepts and actions that in the future will allow the girl's to win events. All the girls who participated on the team dedicated a large amount of time and effort to represent Great Bridge High School. Many thanks go to the members of the team, Jennifer Hyatt, Denise Lawrence, Kim Schulurd, Tammy Hill, Kristin Lee, and Coach Hopkins.

Junior Varsity wrestling took on a new look this year. Instead of the J.V. team preceding the varsity matches as had been done since year one, the J.V.'s were in a series of tournaments which gave each wrestler the opportunity to wrestle twice on Saturdays. The Winners of the first round would wrestle the winners of the second round and the losers would wrestle the losers. This gave everyone a chance to wrestle twice with (in a group of 4) one wrestler winning 2 matches, 2 wrestlers winning 1 match, and one not winning any. Many of our J.V.'s look very promising with the following showing good skills and dedication: Blake White, Greg Retz, Troy Gudac, Tom Thompson, Ernest Harris, David Krause, Russell Kellum. Other athletes who may break into varsity line up next year are Steve O'Neal, Kent Basnight, Jody Jackson, and Paul Creeling.

Goals To Be Reached

To most, there is no weather harsh enough to keep away from the world-wide obsession . . . soccer. On February 16, 1983, a casual passer-by would have been baffled as to why thirty to forty girls would brave the cold wind and misty rain.

With Harvey Regan as coach, the girls' soccer team had a record of no wins, eight losses, and four ties. "The girls had good skills on the whole, but lacked experience and teamwork," says Coach Regan. However, there were many highlights to the season. Lynne Chambers' goal in the away game with Norfolk Catholic was one. Lynne was well out of the penalty area. Michele States also had a great point against Norview. At Western Branch, Regina Etheridge threw the ball in to Holly Hopping before the opposing team had a chance to set up, and Holly immediately put it into the net! These were just a few of the fantastic scores made. Other scorers included Regina Etheridge and Cindy Horsboll.

Besides terrible weather, injuries were not uncommon. Starting goalie Lynnette Bolton was hurt early in the season because of knee troubles. First year player, Bonnie Brett, did a nice job of backing Lynnette up, and later even started games as she built up confidence and experience. Lynnette was not the only unfortunate player, many members of the team were plagued with numerous injuries.

Although the overall record was not outstanding, the girls were improving with every game. With hard work and dedication the team should have an excellent season next year.

Just A Kick . . .

Hard practice and sore muscles paid off for the 1983 Varsity Boys' Soccer Team as they achieved second place in the Southeastern district for the season. The highlight of the season came when the Wildcats lost to Western Branch (2-1) in a hard fought game that would inevitably decide the district championship. The Wildcats came up two goals short from first place in the district as Western Branch went on to win with a record of 8-0-0. The Cats earned a record of six wins, one loss, and one tie with an overall record of seven wins, three losses, and one tie.

The Wildcats were led Most Valuable Player Tom Embry, and supported by many other outstanding players as well. The offense was led by Scott Davis, exchange student Fernando Escobar, and Maxwell Olishile. The defense included Greg Benham, Brett Benham, Doug Lynch, Jimmy Bedsole, and Joey Southerland.

The team exposed their offensive strength by outscoring their district opponents forty-five to six. Strength was also evident in the defense as they achieved six shutouts. The presence of a both strong offense and defense provided for a well-balanced attack.

First year boys' coach Pierre Anderson directed the Wildcats. He kept the team in shape with conditioning practice and their skills sharp with drills.

Many of the starters return and the team expects a most exciting season next year.

Overhead Smash

Coach Curtis Lane and his boy's tennis team concluded the 1983 spring season with a 7-2 record, the best record in 5 years.

In mid March the team started practicing which began with the all favored exercises, running, and many drills. Although the team didn't favor the running etc. they knew in the long run that that is what made them so outstanding. The season was one filled with excitement.

The last match of the regular season was a grudge match against Indian River. The boy's lost to Indian River 5-4 which in turn made Great Bridge number 2.

The team was led by seniors, Trey Stone, Andy Greenough, Mike Lienemann, Paul Sioros, Ricky Boliik, and junior, Timmy Daffron. One of the highlights of the season was defeating district champion Churchland 5-4 for their only regular season loss in two years.

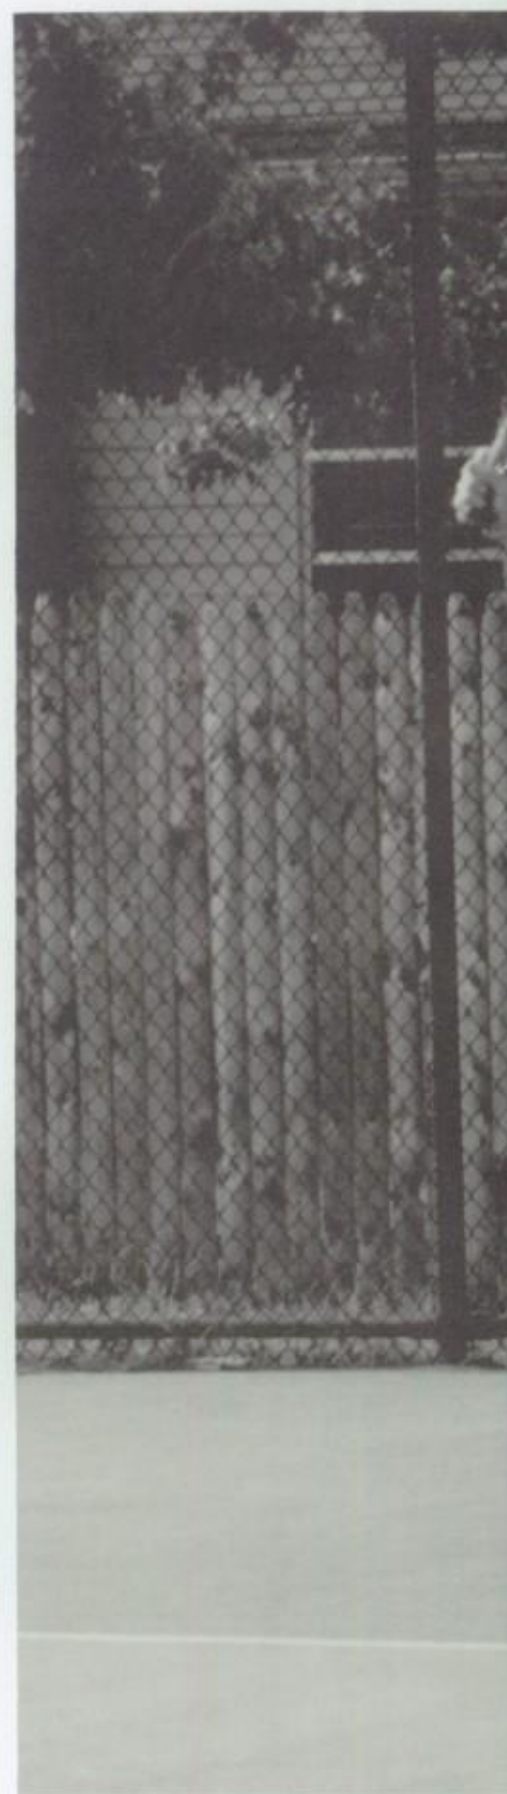

Mike Lienemann had the most successful season with a record of 9-0 and not far behind with an 8-1 record was Andy Greenough, both players were most valuable for their outstanding records. One player reached the semi-finals in the Southeastern District tournament and that was senior Andy Greenough.

Even though Great Bridge will lose 5 out of their top 6 players for the 1984 season, they are still hopeful that they can have another successful season with the help of juniors, Timmy Daffron and Steve Welton, sophomores, Paul Grace, Jeff Lohr, Edward Alexander, Steve Deal, and John Gendell, and freshman, Wayne Wyatt.

Coming Home

A successful season was achieved by the Great Bridge Varsity Baseball team which won the Southeastern District Baseball Championship with a conference record of 7 wins and 2 losses. Overall, the Wildcats were 11-4 on the season. The highlight of the season was playing at Met Park against Warwick High school in the Eastern Regionals. The team lost in the first game to Warwick by a score of 5-1.

The team was led by co-captains, Leon Ambrose and Greg Jennings. Throughout the season, Tommy Oliver was the team's top hitter with a .433 batting average. Other top batters were George Happer .378, Leon Ambrose .357 Scott Gibbs .361, and Brian Deal .341. The pitching staff was led by Scott Wells with a 4-0 record, Leon Ambrose 3-1, Eddie Barker 2-0, and David Walters 2-1, rounded out the pitching staff.

Throughout the season, the team received outstanding defensive play from Gary Everton, Chris Higginson, Taylor Grissom, Jerry Eason, and Mark Kirby. Our seniors will be missed next season, but eleven lettermen return for the "diamond cats" and coach Oliver will be looking for another great season.

Hit And Run

Coach Bob Robinson and the J.V. Baseball team started out the 1983 season with two back to back victories over Manor and Indian River. It looked like a very promising season for the J.V. Cats. But the team ran into a bit of difficulty midseason and fell into a slump winning only 1 out of their next 5 games. Leading in the offense were Don Hig-gerson and Donzell Williams who led the team in batting. David Shaw and Rodney Mills also contributed heavily to the team efforts. Kevin Crum and Jeff Self were the teams best two defensive players always coming up with the big plays when necessary. Don Hig-gerson and Chris Tomlinson handled most of the pitching chores. The team was able to come back at the end of the season with two big victories over Norcom and Wilson. Although most of the starters will not be returning this year Coach Robinson is confident in his team.

"Victory" was the key word for the Lady Wildcat Softball team during the 1983 season. They had an overwhelming record of 8 wins and 1 lose.

The returning players who contributed to the success were Stephanie Green, Paige Stutz, Suzy Mizelle, Kelly Mills, Dale Miller, Judy

Herz, Tammy Blake, Trena Clark, Laurie Yoder, Cissy Jennings, and Lisa Lovitt.

As the result of their success, the lady wildcats were Southeastern district champions and Eastern Regional runner-ups.

For Carla Moyer, Tammy Blake, and Suzy Mizelle the season did not end with regular district playing. These girls were honored to be chosen as part of the All Southeastern District Team.

Coach Cecil Jennings was extremely pleased with the team and credits it's players with outstanding defense and clutch hitting.

Running Toward Success

Off to a running start, the boys track team, placed fourth in the district. Contributing his effort, Don Pearce set two school records on hurdles, 110 high hurdles, 300 intermediate hurdles. In the shot put division David Brooks made district champion. Another school record was set by John Phillips in 400 meters. The boys track team ended its season with pride and great success.

Keeping up the pace, the girls track team had a thrilling season. They placed third in the city meet and fifth in the district. The girls scored a dual meet record of 4-1. Most valuable team member Lisa French, contributed her efforts by setting a new school record in long jumping 17 ft., 5 in. She achieved first in the city and second in the district. She didn't stop her efforts there, she continued by placing sixth in the district and she participated on the record setting of the 800 meter and 400 meter relay teams.

Additional highlights were shown by Dawn Spruill who was district champion in the 1600 and also later set a record in the same event. Dawn's teammate, Kim Schucker ran the 3200 and set first in the city and fifth in district.

Passing the time, the relay team set second in the district and the sixth in the region set a new school record. The proud team members were Kim Mayo, Donna Rouson, Natalie Williams, and Kim Sparrow. The 800 meter relay team members were Lisa French, Claudia Clark, Lisa Riddick, Inez Mayo, and Patricia Brown. They set second in district, which was a new school record.

The team had a rewarding and exciting season. Coach Shoner had his last words by saying the future looks bright with only two graduating and almost every outstanding member will be returning.

Hard work pays off . . .

Another year has gone by and as usual our clubs and organizations were as busy as ever. We all worked hard to put on successful events such as annual sale drives, sporting events, dances, and special projects. One new and very special event was the walk-a-thon sponsored by the SCA in order to help two students very special to us all.

Like in the years past, the competition between the clubs for bigger and better projects was fierce. Of course this competition is good training for our futures. Leadership, responsibility and pride are all qualities received in working with our clubs and organizations and will always bring fond memories to us all.

New Challenge A Success

Caring was the key word for the 1983-84 SCA. Beginning last May elections were held for the 1983-84 school year. These officers were Richie Babb, President, Keith Ann Whitlow, Vice President, Hill Creekmore, Treasurer, Valerie Davis, Corresponding Secretary, Angela Scalise, Recording Secretary, and Harold Barnett, Reporter, work hard to keep the SCA running smoothly. Later Chaplain, Debbie Hogan and parliamentarian Max Perkins were appointed by Richie Babb. Together they all worked hard to get involved and be aware of the students wants and needs. The SCA. delegation works Homeroom Representatives were responsible for handling elections and drives that the SCA. sponsored. Some of these activities were the 1983 Homecoming Court elections, the Penny-An-Inch Drive, the canned food drive, and also for collecting money for the needy families around the community. One very special fund raiser held was a Walk-A-Thon for the two very special students involved in a car accident.

All in all, the SCA gave each student a chance to get involved with school activities.

Serving The School

The Inter-Club Council had regular meetings once a month. President Keith-Ann Whitlow and other members made many decisions such as choosing this year's theme for Homecoming and working hard on the Walk-A-Thon. They got all the clubs involved in these and many other projects.

With the new school brought the tradition of the Honor Club Council. This group was made up of 2 seniors, 3 juniors, and 2 sophomores. Their job includes a method of trying students who have been accused of cheating.

The Bible Club is a small group of students share fellowship and prayer. Every Wednesday during the year they meet in the Commons Area, to share good news, thoughts, concerns, and prayers. They're a small group of people who worked hard to help others learn about Christ. They donated a bible collection to the library this year through Mr. Pittman's help.

At Christmas they all met together for dinner to share in the joy of the season. They encourage participation in this club and want to demonstrate the bond of Christian love.

Superior Rating for Wildcat Band

During each week of Football season the Marching Wildcats presented a combination of six majorettes, a flag team, a rifle team, three drum majors, and eighty-four musicians to provide halftime entertainment. This group spent one week at Chowan College preparing for marching season in addition to after-school practices every Monday and Thursday.

The Wildcat Band proved very versatile by performing in marching shows and concerts. Judges awarded the band several trophies and awards at a number of events.

On October 22, the Marching Wildcats traveled to Indian River High School for the Eleventh Annual Tidewater Festival, where they were awarded second place in their division. In addition, the band was awarded First Place trophies for Best Flag Team, Best Rifle Team, and Best Overall Color Guard.

The following week, October 29, the band performed at the V.B.O.D.A. State Marching Festival; the most prestigious of all competitions. The Marching Wildcats were one of only four bands to receive the highest rating — Superior. In addition, the band received the Third Place trophy for the Best Auxiliaries.

Later in December the band marched away with the First Place Trophy in the Chesapeake Christmas Parade.

Tryouts for the District IV Regional Band were held at Manor High School this year. Of the ninety-five musicians chosen from Chesapeake, Portsmouth, Suffolk and Isle of Wright County Schools, thirty-one students were from Great Bridge. In addition, fifteen Great Bridge students qualified as candidates for the All-Virginia Band.

The actual clinic was held February 3-5 at Deep Creek High School. The musicians rehearsed Friday and Saturday, with rest and lunch breaks interspersed. On Sunday, parents and friends were treated to a fine performance by this outstanding group of young people.

Twenty-one students met after school this year to form the Stage Band; a group that plays at a number of special programs. This year the Stage Band performed for the school dedication, the Miss Great Bridge Pageant, the Chesapeake Retirement Banquet, the P.T.S.A. Council Banquet, and a special program for Mr. White, the retiring principal at Great Bridge Intermediate School.

The concert band kept a busy schedule as well. The band presented a Christmas Concert and Christmas Assembly in December. In March the band gave a fine performance at the District Band Festival held at Indian River High School. In the Spring the band presented a Spring Concert and a number of performances in the community.

Band members had a busy year to say the least. Of all the performing ensembles combined, over twenty-five performances were given for the school and community.

Acting For Others

Moving into the new Great Bridge High School has been an exciting event for the Thespian Society. A new classroom equipped with stage curtain, and lights provides the ideal setting for learning the art of theatre. A new Stage Bright lighting system in the auditorium enables students to obtain the best look for their productions.

The fall production, The Haunted House, was a major success. Blood and death, slamming doors, and darkness were a few of the scare tactics used to create that "spooky atmosphere".

Stage Struck, a one act play about a famous tenor, country girl, and lady snake dancer, was taken to the Virginia State Thespian convention by Great Bridge Thespians.

Thespians performed Christmas skits at area nursing homes and hospitals to provide moments of fun and laughter for those who were in need during the holiday season. As Thespians move forward, they look toward producing a Tidewater premiere of the musical Barnum. Tim Nolan, a professional juggler, was brought in to teach the cast the art of juggling.

"Our New Debut", Doria's Homecoming float exemplified the hard work and determination of the members.

The Dolls Debut

The Doria Dolls began the year with the annual Mother/Daughter Banquet which took place at Island House Restaurant. It was a memorable night as new members were inducted, new officers were installed, and the seniors said their goodbyes to the underclassmen.

During the year Doria attended church on a monthly basis, held bi-weekly meetings, participated in the doughnut and cookie pie sales and attended the city wide orientation.

As Homecoming rolled around members began to think of ideas for the float. Working at Susan Whitfield's house the float began to take shape. "Our New Debut" was the title of the float. Before Christmas, the dolls held their traditional progressive dinner. In January they ventured to Iceland where they took on the task of learning to skate. Soon after Doria members attended Modern General Assembly which was held in April. The dolls continued their tradition with a successful year.

Darlings' In Action

The 1983-1984 school year started in early August for the Delta Darlings with two pool parties, lot's of food and fun were enjoyed by all. Sept. brought thoughts of fall, football season, and Homecoming.

Delta participated in homecoming with their float, "Friday Night at the Movies." In addition to the regular business meetings held on the first Tuesday of each month, Delta invited several speakers to their program meetings. Included were Mr. Stein from the Humane Society, a presentation at the planetarium, and Jane David from the Chesapeake Y.M.C.A.

For fund raising activities Delta had a successful year with Current Stationary and Sun Catchers. With the money raised it paid for the building of the float, a savings bond for Miss Great Bridge, contribution World Service, and helped toward the Mother/Daughter Banquet. Social activities for the year included a Halloween Party, a Christmas Slumber Party and Ice Skating.

Community projects included a food drive, donating stuffed animals to S. Mary's Childrens Home, volunteer work at the Heart Association, and an Easter Egg Hunt at the Children's Home.

The year concluded with election of new officers, induction of new members, and the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet. With this Delta concluded another successful year and wish to thank Mrs. Finch for all her help — she will be greatly missed.

A Successful Year

Hard work and determination paid off for the Dorcas Tri-Hi-Y. Officers Kris Driscoll, Kate Hensley, Colleen O'Connor, Jody Guard, Ruth Sanders, Kathryn Banks and Bridgette Thompson worked diligently on plans for the year ahead.

In the fall, Dorcas members helped the Great Bridge Jaycees with their annual oyster roast. Afterwards they all met at sweethearts house Kirk Eley for a costume party. They held their yearly bake goods and donuts sales. In December they made sure that there was a hayride for them all to enjoy.

January 21, was just around the corner and members spent a lot of time and effort working on Miss Great Bridge. This showed because "Opening Night" was a great success.

Dorcas gained a lot of new members this year but one very special person was Mrs. McDonald, their new sponsor.

In the spring, Dorcas members attended the Model General Assembly and had one last meeting to select new members and reflect on another successful year.

We've Got What it Takes

"We've got what it takes" was the general theme exemplified by Delma Tri-Hi-Y this past year. What exactly did it take? Dedication, concern and friendship. These three qualities were possessed and used by each member. This contributed to making the year such an outstanding success.

It all started in June with the annual trip to Nags Head and in August they attended Blue Ridge Assembly.

Throughout the school year members were entertained with activities such as ice-skating, slumber parties, a district Y-treat and several parties to celebrate festive occasions.

However it was not all fun and games for the "devils" as there was much work to be attended to. Money had to be raised to support the clubs needs. For this purpose members sold doughnuts, candles, Homecoming corsages and pens.

The money raised from these projects went to such things as recreation for the club, aiding the needs of our Grandma, and our adopted sister. MGA also used some of this money, and of course the Mother/Daughter banquet held at the end of the year.

This year Delma showed it "had what it takes" and it will always "keep it's fire burning".

The Skill of Being Digna-phied

We have many clubs here at Great Bridge High School. However, only one of those is reserved simply for the guys of our school. One must go through a lot to become a member of this organization. Courage and guts must be part of your personality. Upon deciding to join this club, they say it builds character. Once a part of these guys, you might feel as if you could conquer the world.

Digna-Phi is well-known by most for its famous initiation. During this time, you may see future Digna-Phi members dressed strangely, for example, shirts and ties on backwards, pants legs rolled up, two different shoes and socks on, along with a sign exclaiming, "I'm learning to be Digna-Phied." Everyone gets a kick out of this sight and after growing accustomed to the stares, the guys follow the laughs, doing all they can to attract attention.

This year Digna-Phi held the crowds attention when they had a Scrooge contest. Students and faculty placed money in a jar under the teachers name they felt most deserving the Scrooge award. Mrs. Anderson was the recei-pant of such an honor during the Christmas assembly and received a standing ovation. The club was raising money for a needy family, and succeeded in collecting a healthy sum.

Digna-Phi does the normal club activities also, such as, donut sales, attending church once a month, holding regular meetings, MGA, and participating in the float competition during Homecoming. They also co-sponsored the annual Mr. Great Bridge Pageant.

The members of this organization are well-known for their wit. The President is Matt Kirkby, Vice-President, Bobby Cummings, Secretary, Jonathan Markham, Treasurer, Hill Creekmore, Reporter, Paul Legget, and Historian, Mark Wheaton. The leaders of this club only contribute more fun to the clubs activities. One always knows when a Digna-Phi member is around, unexpected things begin to occur. So the next time strange, hilarious things begin to occur, don't worry, its only a Digna-Phi member carrying out their usual, witty stunts.

Tradition wins again was the theme for Digna-Phi's float this year.

The first job for the Spanish Club was to elect the 1984 officers. The elections revealed that the officers would be: Melissa Sutton — President, John Copen — Vice-President, Heather Buyrn — Secretary, Robin Lockhart — Treasurer, Denise Lawrence — Reporter, and Susan Kitts — Historian.

With the help of the sponsors, Brenda Miller and Christine Holiday, the club had a successful year. The club constructed a float for Homecoming. Although it did not place, a lot of time and hard work went into the float. In November the club had a Taco Party, and in December they had a Christmas Party. In March there was the student/faculty Basketball game, which always proves to have a large turnout.

Die Beste

Equipped with a new sponsor Frau Viccellio, this year's German Club forged ahead with new exciting ideas. As usual, the Great Bridge High School German Club gave it's members a true taste of great German culture this year. At homecoming, the gaint German Cuckoo Clock won first prize, after much work and effort on the part of dedicated students. A trip to Waterside to visit a docked German ship during Oktoberfest proved fun for all. The German Christmas party was a great success with terrific German food and caroling. A 24 hour Rock-a-thon is scheduled for March 16 and 17. All money raised this year is to help with parties and help students pay to go to Germany for a few weeks next year. An overnight field trip is also planned for the last weekend in April. It will be to the Amish country near Lancaster, Penn. with special side tours and great meals. Busch Gardens will also be visited by the club this spring. This year's officers guiding the club are, Julie Thomas; president David Lockhart; vice-pres. Regina Etheridge; sec. Susan Gray; historian, Marian Robinson; treasurer. The banquet at the end of the year, will culminate an especially eventful and enjoyable year for the club.

Dedicated Workers

One club here at Great Bridge has decided to enjoy themselves fully. Last year, the French Club worked very diligently on many projects in order to raise money. This year, however, they reap from the benefits. The members of this club have met at Pizza Hut to socialize while enjoying dinner, and also meetings have been held at Pierre Kennedy's house, the president of the club. They watched a slide presentation and ate french food. They supported the Walk-A-Thon sponsored by Great Bridge High School for Ericka and Kevin and have stood behind the I.C.C. in anything else asked of them.

The French Club is easy going and always seems to have fun in everything they do. All clubs could learn from them.

Everyone in this world, sometime, will need help from others. Great Bridge High School has found some very reliable people to help deal with the every day problems of answering the phone, taking or delivering messages, and anything else possible. Having responsible students work for the Guidance and Office helps to cut down on confusion and aggravation. These students must conduct themselves properly when speaking with adults who arrive at the office, for they are just a small sample of the rest of the student body. A lot is placed on them and they do a splendid job. They deserve a standing ovation.

Anchor Club Ready To Serve

The Anchor Club had a good fourth year with twenty-nine members and three shipmates. Their first project was the homecoming float. The title was "Today A New G.B.H.S. Tomorrow The Universe".

In November the club sent their vice-president, Lura Harkins, to Freedoms Foundation in Pennsylvania for a leadership conference. Upon returning she gave many speeches to different clubs in the area on the freedom we have in the United States.

Also in November the club had a pizza party for the new members and participated in the charter night banquet for the Oscar Smith Anchor Club. In December they had a christmas party at Amber Ridgely's house and in February they went ice skating. In the spring they held their annual Mother-Daughter banquet. The club also gave flowers for the dedication of the new school and a donation for the microwave in the teachers lounge.

Throughout the year the group visited their adopted grandmother, Mrs. Tate, and played bingo at the Autumn Care nursing home. Another service program they have done is the Safety Project, sponsored by the International Pilot Club. The project this year was focused on drunk driving.

Their only fund raisers this year were three donut sales in September, February and March.

Business As A Goal

To keep the club going after a summer vacation, DECA had a picnic. This was a time for the members to get together for some fun.

When school started back DECA elected its new officers. After the elections, the officers got together and began planning the club activities.

In October, DECA held its annual banquet to install and initiate new officers and members. This is a family activity that the club participates in.

This year our fall rally was held at Camp Civitan. DECA clubs from District 25 got together for a social. We had a volleyball tournament while we were there.

In December, the club had its biggest event, the Craft Fair. The fair lasted for Three days and was a great success. The purpose for the fair was to give the members a chance to use their vocational skills.

Another exciting event for DECA was District Competition. We had three 1st place winners, Laura Love — Apparel and Accessories, Tim Creef — Restaurant Marketing, and Dee Dee Christian — Communications. To the club everyone was a winner.

NHS Upholds Ideals

The Great Bridge chapter of the National Honor Society is the only organization within the high school to base its membership on the following ideas: scholarship, leadership, service, and character. The members are chosen by a panel of teachers and are evaluated by the above criteria. The society enlightens students to always do their best. Andra Hunter remarked, "The National Honor Society allowed me to realize my true potential as a student and as a leader."

Throughout the year the society had various organizational activities which included sponsoring a underprivileged child. The highlight of the year however was the induction of the new members which takes place each February.

Old or new, the members are dedicated and hardworking, and have assuredly put the first step forward into achieving a successful life.

Success in Business

When taking typing, shorthand, or other business subjects, one is often asked if they would be interested in joining FBLA. The looks which one might receive could be classified as curious, especially the one's given by new students at Great Bridge High School. The only requirement for FBLA is to simply sign up for a business course and pay dues once a year.

One can really enjoy this club because there are no pressures of attending their meetings which are only on the first Tuesday of every month or going to after school activities. The things which are planned for the members of FBLA are quite enjoyable.

FBLA does a lot to help others. They raised money for a project called ASK (Assistance for the Study of Childhood Cancer) and they donated money for the Microwave in the teachers faculty dining room.

The members could purchase sweatshirts, advertising their membership. They had one major project where the students sold pocket calendars. There are many other things FBLA does such as having a competition in March, selling Valentine's Day carnations, and hold socials.

Once becoming a member of this club and have gotten involved with the many wonderful business teachers, which we are so fortunate to have, you will not regret a single penny of your $6.00.

VICA is a club known by many here at Great Bridge and has a large number of members. The students involved with this club stay quite busy with all their activities.

This organization worked very diligently on their float for the annual Homecoming parade in October and reaped the benefits of winning second place. They attended the VICA Rally at the Chamberlin Hotel and maintained the concession stand for the many basketball games during the season. Also, as many clubs do, the selling of doughnuts is performed to help out with the financial end for any other adventures they participated in.

Speaking Your Mind

Over 100 trophies and awards have been won this year. The Debate Team had a very exciting season. They visited many other high schools and universities. Included in these were Bronx High School of Science, Edison High School, where they won first place, Randolph-Macon College, where they also placed first, Bishop McDevitt High School, University of North Carolina, George Mason University, Montgomery Bell Academy, Princeton High School, Emory University, High Point Central High School, and James Madison University. They also visited Green Run High School, Cox High School, Tabb High School, First Colonial High, Hampton High School, and Deep Creek High School.

The Forensics Team also had a very exciting season. They visited Menchville High School, Tabb High School, Deep Creek High School, First Colonial High School, and Emory University. At tournaments, each competitor earned a certain number of points on performance. If a student accumulates 25 points during season, then he is able to join the National Forensics League. Great Bridge has the largest National Forensics League in Virginia and Maryland.

These debaters spent a great deal of time researching and planning for competition.

FHA: Active as Ever

The Future Homemakers of America is a preparatory club with a special emphasis on domestic ideals. It gives home economic students a chance to put their skills to work and encourages interest in the course outside the classroom.

FHA prides itself as being one of the most active organizations at Great Bridge High.

Cheryl Butts, Sharon Alexander, and Deborah Mullen attempt to win their favorite stuffed animal at the Virginia State Fair.

They started the year off with a trip to the Virginia State Fair which some members described as a "tripping time." Later they got down to business with an Installation dinner and a Faculty Christmas breakfast. Other activities included a Boy's Pie Baking Contest, a spring picnic, and an Awards Banquet. All these activities included dedication and hardwork on the part of the members & the sponsor Mrs. Kittleson.

Thinking Counts

The first year for the Computer Club has been a successful one. Much has been accomplished in this year. Many places related to computer science have been visited this year to promote student interest and knowledge. Among them are the Dam Neck Naval Computer Complex, Norfolk International Airport, and Langley Air Force computer centers.

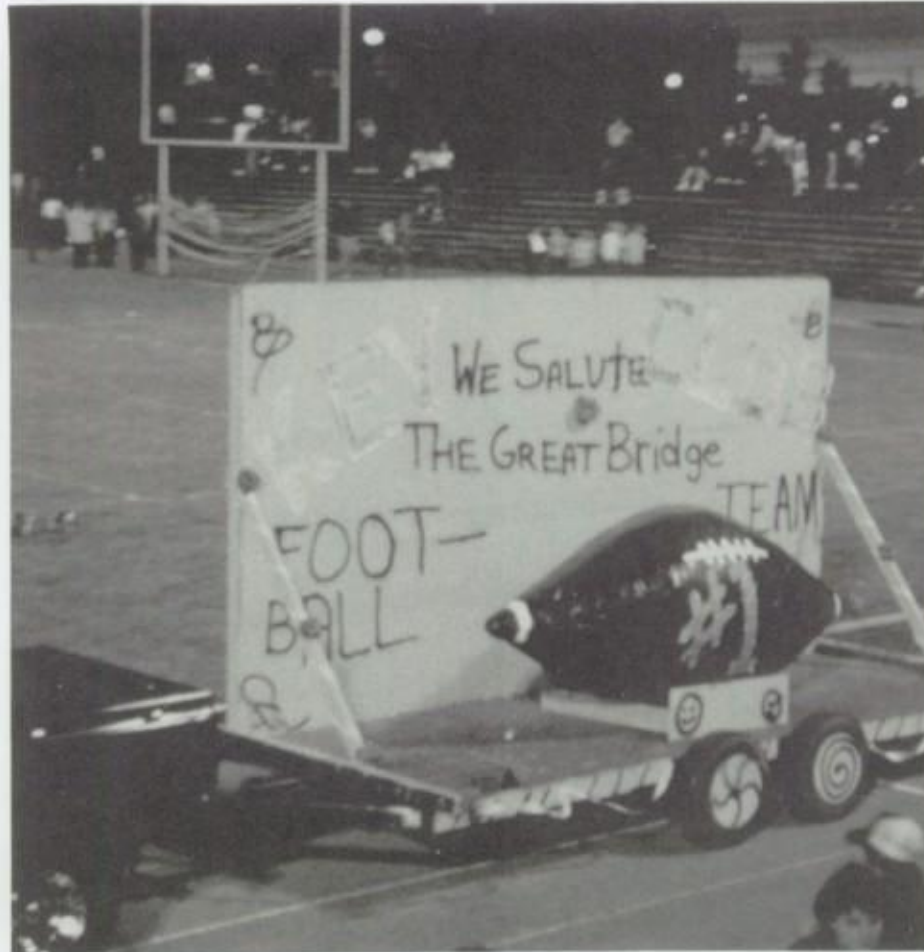

A final goal of the Computer Club is the acquisition of programs for the future use of the club.

The Chess Club is designed to give students the opportunity to stretch their imagination and give them the ability to think.

This year, the Chess Club consists of eight members. These eight members meet with Mr. Smith weekly and practice their skills against each other.

The Great Bridge High School Chess Club was formed during the seventies. They have the opportunity to play against other schools in the state.

The Key Club participated in the Homecoming by making a float.

Andrew Wirt, Verona Bess, Angie Eidsmoe, and Susan Newell are enjoying some time at Greenbrier Mall.

Key Club Officers: Susan Newell, Historian; Trudy Innes, Treasurer; Andrew Wirt, President; Billy Hobbs, Vice President; Heather Buryn, Secretary.

One of the main services of the Key Club is to sell refreshments at the football games. Here Collette Murphy and Belinda Brickhouse are preparing popcorn.

Key Club Opens Doors

The Key Club, a service club, has faithfully served the school and community for years. The Key Club is a national organization which is a branch of the Kiwanis Club. Members happily perform tasks throughout the year, from popping popcorn at football games to supporting the Arthritis Foundation in a fund drive. Under the guidance of the new sponsor, Mr. Dunhum, and the officers Andrew Wirt, Billy Hobbs, Trudy Innes, and Heather Buryn they had another great year for the records.

Each year there is a nation wide convention of Key Club officers. This year it is in Texas and they plan to attend. The Key Club proudly acknowledges the fact that they are the only service club which maintains its membership of both men and women.

Brains and Brainstorming

Eight students from Great Bridge High School belong to a team called Hi-Q. Some of us might have seen their games which are shown on WHRO, channel 15. These students must undergo much practice and concentration. However, of both concentration and practice, they all agree that practice is the harder of the two, for it is almost impossible. This group must have quick minds and a wide variety of knowledge. They are questioned in the area's of math, science, history, definitions, spelling, psychology, foreign language and countless other areas. Ms. Moore stated, "The questions are usually trivia," dealing with articles in newspapers, and things talked about in class.

Students belonging to this team are definitely extraordinary and deserving of much recognition.

Amidst many busy hours of brainstorming, writing, editing, rewriting and typing copy The Bridge staff began a new tradition this year. They came up with the idea of selling papers individually, instead of employing the usual one-time subscription policy.

The effort proved to be a successful one, giving the student body an increased access to The Bridge, which was sold monthly. This new tradition also enabled the newspaper staff to pay for each edition without using a large amount of ads, as had previously been necessary.

Through this technique, there was more room for the popular editorials, sports, and news sections. They were even able to realize a small profit and so used this money for a year end trip to Busch Gardens, on the account of the Bridge.

The hardworking staff began another new tradition this year, or at least enlarged upon an old one. That was to seek extra reporters for the smaller than usual staff. This was a good idea, because although The Bridge is a student newspaper, many of the pupils don't realize that their help and contributions are welcomed. By importing the extra group of full-time reporters from various backgrounds, grades and interests, the paper took on an added appeal. The Bridge staff had a terrific year and had fun in the process.

Bridge staff member, Stephen Deal, shows Mary Kay Owney the latest copy of the Bridge.

Before the deadline, Susan Gray shows Susie Kitts how to use a new cropper.

During sixth bell, Leslie Turlington, Leslie Bush, and Missy Martin compare ideas for the Senior section.

Concentrating on the yearbook, Kevin Harrison consults Warren Hemmings on graphics for the Sports section.

Striving For Perfection

Production of this year's Causeway began as early as August. In this month before school, the two editors-in-chief and the assistant editor attended the annual workshop-seminar given by Hunter Publishing Company. During this week they learned such things as better layout design, how to write better body copy, better staff management, early yearbook organization, and even some photography tips.

After the start of school, the editors and advisor began teaching the new staff all about yearbooks as quickly as possible. Those which showed more responsibility were picked as various section editors. In October, the editors drove to Virginia Beach to attend the Hunter cover workshop. Here they decided all the details of the book and submitted their idea for the cover.

Soon, the staff got to work on their deadlines. Because a major part of the book was due in December, they had to work fast. In a matter of months, the book had to be finished and sent in. The students did their best for accuracy. The final drafts were looked over twice to avoid as many mistakes as possible.

Trying to modernize yet keep the "traditional style", the Causeway has tried more exciting graphics and tooling lines this year. Hopefully this change will give it a individual look.

Members of the yearbook staff worked hard to make the publication of the 1984 edition of the Causeway contain a wider variety of the student body and to be a stable memory for the whole year.

In the midst of confusion, Sara O'Neal explains to Bonnie Claeys how to type on copy sheets.

A strong supporter for the Causeway is the Great Bridge Ruritan Club.

The Great Bridge branch of the First and Merchants Bank helps students with their banking needs as well as supports the school.

One of our sponsors which make the yearbook possible is The Tabloid.

Twenty years from now you'll be sitting down and thinking of all the fun you had during high school. You'll thumb through your dusty, dog-eared annual and laugh at the way you and your friends looked. You will see all the people who once were so close but now have gone their separate ways.

You wouldn't be able to have all these fond memories if it were not for the Causeway. Even more so, you wouldn't have the Causeway if it were not for the many thoughtful community businesses that us change blank pages into a beautiful annual that will be cherished for years to come.

No words can describe the gratitude we have for these supportive businesses. So many thanks to those who have financially supported us and made it possible for us to put together the 1984 Causeway.

GAIN A SKILL WHILE YOU GAIN THE MONEY FOR COLLEGE.

With the Army College Fund, you learn a skill while you accumulate the money for college. So you don't waste any of your precious time, or stand still while your college money is growing.

To qualify, you must be a high school graduate, make good marks on the Armed Services qualification test, and enlist and train in one of several selected skills which will challenge your mind.

You can start immediately growing the money for college. And for every $1 you save out of your salary (which is more than $570 per month), the government will add $5. Or more. If you put up $100 a month, after a 2-year enlistment, you'll have $15,200 for college. Plus a skill that could help you decide which direction to take in college. And the future.

Pick up a copy of the Army College Fund booklet at your local Army Recruiting office.

The word "Delta" is written in a large, stylized font above her, with "Kappa" and "Epsilon" written in smaller fonts to its right. The year "84" and the word "Nom" are written below the Delta. The poster is surrounded by the names of many members, including Claudia Clark, Beth Crosby, Val Davis, Johanna Kewell, and many others. The names are written in various styles and orientations, some inside the Greek letters and some around the edges. The overall design is colorful and festive, with a hand-drawn aesthetic.

HOUSE OF HUMPY, INC.
Chesapeake, Virginia

HUMPY'S HISTORY

As a native of Virginia, a state well-noted for its culinary delights, Julian Greenough grew up surrounded by good cooks and good food. It soon became his desire to develop a special cooking sauce that would not only enhance the mouthwatering taste of his favorite ribs, but also tantalize the flavor of all meat and seafood dishes.

Through endless hours of research, experimentation and taste-testing, Greenough's efforts culminated in the formulation of Humpy's House Country Style Barbecue Sauce. Since the early 1950s, when it was first introduced, Humpy's Sauce has become a regional favorite. Recently, Humpy's House has expanded its marketing efforts to include selected restaurants and shops throughout the United States. Now, no matter where you live, you can enjoy the unique downhome flavor of Virginia's favorite cooking sauce.

If you'd like, we'd be pleased to send you our favorite Humpy's Sauce recipes. Just send a post card to: HUMPY'S HOUSE, 401 Jule Drive, Chesapeake, VA 23320.

This year's annual is filled with changes, hard work, and dedication. First, and foremost we would like to thank Mrs. Susan Cupitt, our advisor. She is the unsung hero who gave us great ideas, put up with our squabbles and inexperience, and was always there when we needed her. We would also like to thank the staff, although we do not want to recognize them individually because they worked as a team. Everyone worked hard hours during weekends and after school. This year's theme — "Great Bridge II — The Tradition Continues" was very easy to work with because anything done in this school is filled with those two wonderful words: tradition and pride. We are sure that many mistakes have been made in this book, (no yearbook can be made without them) yet we tried our best (with also attending our other classes) and this is the profit of our work. In addition, Mrs. Carolyn Bernard, the "Bunky" who kept our financial situation working and alive deserves a round of applause. Another very special thanks goes to Mr. John Perry, our Hunter representative, who fixed problems we could not comprehend. Many things have changed, yet most is the same as in other years, with different faces added. We tried to show a wider variety instead of the same faces because its a book for everyone, and not just a chosen few. In making this book we have tried to capture the true spirit and feeling of the student body. Yet trying to condense a whole year of memories onto a collection of pictures and words on white paper is limited. In putting together this year's Causeway, the staff has experienced much of the joys, tears, wins, losses, successes, and failures of the student body and we hope that in some small way we have been able to pass this on to you.

Lois Taylor and Monique Huerta discuss matters of importance at a Halloween Party.

Bonnie Brett, Stacie Dekker, and Jody Crow take out time for a smile at Chi-Chi's.

Shining through the senior court, sunbeams light up the dim corridors.

After a basketball game, Kevin Harrison, Colleen O'Connor, Heather White, and Chuck Unser leave after a relaxing meal.

Jennifer Hartman shows interest in the game while cheering.

A Final Sigh

High school is the end of one of the happiest times of our lives. We can no more use the excuse of "acting like a kid". We have become young adults spending time on silly things such as deciding what our majors are going to be, starting a career, and planning a future. What has happened to the time? All of high school will soon become only articles of paper, photos in a frame, hoping to capture fading pictures of delight. These images of our time together seem only to be relived in tales told in college. While getting caught up in leaving and making the best of the time that is left, it seems that each class has come together as a whole. Enemies are forgotten, new friends made, and we all as comrades mix to become a mutual force which is called Great Bridge.

In addition to listening to the dedication of the school, Hill Creekmore and Keith Ann Whitlow chat among themselves.

Giving a sideways glance, Jeff Parsons listens to a lesson.

Brent Boyd attends the dedication of the new building on September 25 in the auditorium.

Golden Memories For A Green School

This has been a year of starts and finishes. Yet the beginnings are over and the ending seems so permanent. The Class of 1984 has begun an era of memorable seasons for the new Wildcats. For them it is their last. Where has all the time gone? So preciously short, it was spent well: studying, playing, cheering, and laughing. The high school years are some of the best times of our lives, building a climax to the best relationships and hard work. Learning so much more than just square roots, Shakespeare, and the Civil War, we have found out how to deal with situations and people. Yet these memories cannot be taken away, for they are locked in our hearts for all time.

Mrs. Dodge,
Hope your summer goes well
& will see you next year.

Sincerely,
Kelly

Mrs. Dodge
This has been a fun
year and I wished I had
you for typing last summer
You have a nice summer
It's been fun working with you on the court cases even if
I was a bit of a fun
Sincerely
Monique Griffin

Mrs. Hodge.

It has been an experience having you for my teacher.
I have enjoyed it all with the exception of about 4 or 5 days. I hope you have a very relaxing summer.
All your hard that you put in to our class was much appreciated. I had a good time working as Clerk of the Court for the trials. I'll stop by next year to see you. (I know you can hardly wait)
Take care and have a very good summer.

Sincerely
Sonja M. Moore

Mrs. Hodge, These past two years have really been something special.
I'm glad that I had the chance to be in both Typing &
B. Law, they were both experiences I'll never forget.
You're being there all the time has allowed me to confide in you. You have helped me grow outward into the Business World. I'm looking forward to next year and I hope to find you when I need advice. I enjoyed typing o.m. Have a great summer!

Victor D. Zankowski

Mrs. Hodge,

I'm not used to signing teachers annuals so I'll make it short and sweet. I am what Cheryl and Valerie told me, you were a hard teacher who was always cranky, but they were wrong. I started typing I thinking I was going to dislike you and really cause you alot of trouble. I'm glad I realized just how nice of a teacher you are. you can give some hard test but you really are a nice person. I enjoyed typing I better than what I thought it would. I never got a chance to look at your rolls of film, but then again, I'm not Cheryl either. By the way, I was just kidding when I said I didn't think you were all "there". I know how confusing being a teacher must be. you really did a good job. Stay Sweet and I'll come and visit you next year if I don't have you as one of my teachers. Hope you have a safe and fun summer.

P.S.

I sure was glad when you stopped calling me Valerie and Cheryl.

Stay Sweet,
Sharon Whitely

P.S.S.

I am the end of the Anderson - Whitely clan. Now you can start teacher our kids. That's when I know your over the hill. (Just Joking)

P.S.S.S.

I remember how you hate talking in your classes
